THE PRESIDENT HOPES TO VISIT OKLAHOMA

Washington, May 12.—When Governor Frantz and R. E. Wood of Shawnee called on President Roosevelt yesterday, Mr. Wood renewed the invitation for the chief executive to attend the commencement exercises in June next year of the University of Oklahoma. Roosevelt was undoubtedly gratified, especially when Wood showed him that his proposed attendance at the Rough Riders' reunion about the same time would enable him to keep both engagements as well as a proposed visit to Missouri.

In reply, the president, warmly grasping Wood's hand, said: "I will be with you. That is, I want to be with you, but you understand that I cannot promise you at this time. However, I will be with you if I can—and I hope I can."

Mr. Wood intimated that the ceremonies incident to Oklahoma and Indian Territory assuming statehood would occur about the same date, and the President again expressed his appreciation of the invitation and the opportunity to be a participant in that celebration. Wood assured him that the university authorities would gladly change the date of the university commencement exercises to suit his convenience, and the President thanked him cordially and sent through him his profound appreciation of the courtesy and consideration shown him.

SENATOR BAILEY'S RATE BILL AMENDMENT DEFEATED

Washington, May 12.—Senator Bailey's non-suspension amendment applying to orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as covered by the railroad rate bill, which has occupied so much of the attention of the Senate in connection with that bill, was yesterday adversely disposed of by the decisive vote of 23 to 54, practically a party vote. The debate on the provision was limited to a brief political speech by its author, in which he said the President had changed his attitude on the question of maintaining the rates fixed by the commission until the courts reach a final decision. An amendment offered by Senator Rainor, confining the review to constitutional questions, was also voted down.

A number of other amendments offered, in the main by Democrats and by Senator LaFollette, were rejected. The votes were generally along party lines during the entire day, but the Wisconsin Senator voted with the Democrats on all propositions and Messrs. McNary and Morgan, Democrats, voted with the Republicans on most of them.

EVIDENCE IN MURDER TRIAL WHOLLY CIRCUMSTANTIAL

The Stanton murder case has taken two days of court but so far no startling developments have been made. The murder is shrouded in mystery and the fact that ten men have been arrested charged with the crime makes it all the more difficult to try the case. About twelve witnesses have been examined but their evidence is largely circumstantial. It shows that the ten men who are under arrest charged with the murder were all at the resort on the night of the murder and that there had been some trouble between the murdered man and a man named Murphy and also between the deceased and an Indian named Heckman, whom he ejected from the house a couple of times. No threats, however, were heard so far as can be learned. All were drinking and putting in a night of it. Each of the defendants has been examined and each claims to have absolutely no knowledge of when or how the murder was committed. Only one piece of evidence of any importance has been given. One man testified that one of the men charged with the murder came into the resort and said, "The kid has been killed." He went on to state that he found him lying outside and just as he reached him he breathed his last and gasped: "An Indian did it." The Indian, Hickman, with whom the murdered man had had trouble, came up soon after to where the corpse was lying and was placed under arrest. It is generally believed that the ten men who are being tried are all guilty, that they planned the murder and carried it out successfully. Robbery is supposed to have been a motive. There are about ten other witnesses to examine and the trial will probably continue several days next week. It will be held over until next Tuesday or Wednesday, as Judge Winn holds court at Roff Monday. The prisoners are confined in the jail in the rear of the court house and are under guard.

INDIAN BABIES WILL TAKE UP REMAINING LAND

Muskogee, I. T., May 12.—W. S. D. Moore, in charge of the allotting division of the Cherokee nation, believes that there will be at least 5,000 babies entitled to enrollment under recent legislation. That being true there will be less than one-fourth of them who will get allotments, because there are only 1 million acres of unallotted land in the Cherokee nation.

This is of the poorest quality. An average allotment is $325 worth of land, and if it is 50-cent land it takes a lot of it to make an allotment. The babies who do not get land will receive money, but where it is coming from no one seems to know.

In the Creek nation there are 375,000 acres of unallotted land. Most of this, too, is bad land. It is estimated that there will be about seven hundred babies to be allotted in this nation. This will leave on an average 530 acres for each baby if it is all taken up. There probably will be a little land left unless a great deal of this falls below the average apportioned land.

The Choctaws and Chickasaws have more land than they will need. There are 3½ millions of unallotted lands in those two nations exclusive of government segregations, and there will not be 1,000 babies to receive allotments under the new legislation. This will give all the land the babies will need and still have some left, though a great deal of the remaining land is poor.

The total number of babies admitted to rolls since the adult rolls were closed will reach approximately 12,000.

SAN FRANCISCO IS NOW A PROHIBITION TOWN

San Francisco, May 12.—That the authorities here have no intention of loosening the tight grip on the reins which have held the liquor dealers in check since the city suffered its great disaster was made plain yesterday by the emphatic declarations of Mayor Schmitz. When asked as to the likelihood of the saloons being allowed to open in the near future the mayor not only denied that there was a possibility of such action being taken, but added that he had decided that all drinking places should be closed for an indefinite period. He attributed the remarkable absence of crime and the unexceptional order which has prevailed in the city since the conflagration to the fact that the edict against the saloons has been rigidly enforced.

This stand of the mayor was emphasized last afternoon when the board of police commissioners met and unanimously endorsed a suggestion made by the mayor that all saloon licenses now in existence be revoked. San Francisco is today a city without saloons.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

A RECIPE FOR DIAMONDS.

If Anyone Wants to Make a Few,
Here Is the Way to Go
About It.

Would you like to know how to manufacture diamonds—real diamonds? The process is somewhat difficult, requiring time, patience and some outlay of money, but then consider the possible results! The diamond, we know, says the New York Herald, is simply carbon in a transparent crystalline form. It comes of humble parentage and is brother to the lump of coal.

Unlike easily crystallizable bodies, carbon is insoluble in all ordinary solvents, but molten metals will combine with it. Let the diamond maker choose iron for a solvent for charcoal, melting it in an electric furnace, allowing it to take up as much carbon as it can—in other words, saturate itself with carbon. The crucible containing the white hot metal should then be plunged into a bath of molten lead. The result will be that globules of iron will rise to the surface of the lead and are quickly cooled on the outer surface. Inside the hard crust the iron remains for some time in a molten condition, and, as iron expands in solidifying, the contents of these little globules receive a pressure unattainable by any other means. When the lead becomes solidified some bullets of iron will be found bound up in the mass. Dissolve with some powerful acid first the lead and then the iron, and a residue of carbonaceous matter will be found to contain tiny crystals—real diamonds. Any chemist with a well-equipped laboratory can make diamonds in this way, but the largest of them will not be more than a fiftieth of an inch in diameter.

Birth of a New Russia.

However completely the czar's government may enforce its authority in rebellious cities and districts, there is a new Russia to be reckoned with. The old order has passed away. The proof is found in the free speech of the Russian press. The bare fact that a St. Petersburg daily has dared to predict that if the revolts are crushed now they will break out again in January or February stronger than ever proves a tremendous change. The only line of movement is forward. Free speech must lead to freedom in all things, to the degree that the country may be able to assimilate and make good use of liberty.—Cleveland Leader.

The American Chameleon.

The American chameleon, a small lizard (Anolis carolinensis), inhabits various parts of the southern United States. The little animal has the remarkable habit of quickly and completely changing its colors, varying from brown to yellow of pale green. Its food consists of insects. The little animal is perfectly harmless to higher forms of life, is often kept as a pet, and has been worn attached to a chain as an ornament. The toes are provided with adhesive pads, which enable the lizard to run upon smooth vertical surfaces.—St. Nicholas.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY.

One Day the Widow Was Inconsolable, the Next as Gay as a Lark.

P. F. Rothermel, counsel for the Lake Superior corporation, as the reorganized Consolidated Lake Superior is called, was complimented the other day on the excellent year that the concern has had, says the Pittsburg Gazette.

Mr. Rothermel smiled and answered:

"Yes, the company has gotten quickly on its feet. It has recovered quickly. It was not badly hurt, after all. And thus it resembles a widow of whom I heard recently.

"This lady's husband died, and, a day or two after the funeral, a neighbor called to extend her condolences.

"She expected to find the widow frantic with grief. She found her at the piano, singing a gay song. And, astonished at so quick a recovery, the visitor said:

"Well, well, I expected to see you in the deepest distress."

"Ah," said the widow, pathetically, "you should have seen me yesterday."

High Old Sleeping Place.

After two years' dangerous work, a bedroom has been built on the summit of Mount Blanc. It is attached to the Janssen observatory, and is meant for Alpinists who have been overtaken by a storm on the summit or lost their way in the snows. A large camp bed occupies all the floor of the room, and can hold 22 persons. The bedroom, which is the highest in the world, is also the most expensive, as every stick and stone had to be carried up by porters from Chamonix. During its erection it was demolished twice and buried with snow nine times.

CUPID IN A TRUST.

IOWA PASTORS IN PACT REGARDING MARRIAGES.

Ministers Believe Divorce Is a Necessity and Would Control Weddings and Thus Cut Rate—New Law Is Advocated.

Des Moines, Ia.—To form a trust for the purpose of controlling matrimonial ventures is the latest movement on the part of Des Moines ministers. The plans were discussed at a regular weekly meeting of the Ministerial association, and if they are carried out Des Moines will no longer be the Greta Green for lovers who have not for months calmly reflected over the logic of matrimony.

After a liberal discussion the ministers came to the final judgment that divorce is now a necessity, because of the improper matrimonial ties, and they propose to cure the social evil by guarding the entrance into the matrimonial fields by the strongest safeguards.

The agitation was started by Rev. Oran W. Fifer, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, who declared that he is firm in the belief that no man should put asunder those whom God hath joined together, but he expressed the firm belief that God has little to do with many of the modern weddings. He claimed to have had an interview with Judge William H. McHenry, of the equity court here, in which he learned that fully two-thirds of the divorces were granted in cases where love probably had played a very small part in the marriage. He stated that he believed one of the greatest evils is because men and women plunge into marriage without the proper preparation.

Te ministers took up the discussion in a lively manner and practically entered into an agreement that ministers will not in the future marry so indiscriminately.

The preachers believe that where a divorce is wanted there should be arranged a schedule of years according to the offense of the guilty party in which he or she must remain single.

It has also been agreed that the pastors will demand to know the past history of the participants, their financial condition and their past ventures, if any. It is expected that at the next meeting of the association rules will be drawn up governing the performance of marriages. The ministers will ask the cooperation of the justices of the peace.

It is possible that their present action will result in asking the legislature this winter to pass a law making more stringent requirements for securing a license.

LOVE, LIVE ON $3 A WEEK.

Young Plumber Takes Bride—Both Are Happy on Small Income—Secret Gets Out.

Philadelphia.—If at the lowest possible estimate it cost a mother three dollars a week to board and clothe a growing boy, how can a young man nearly 20 take unto himself a wife and keep her in this sum—without keeping her in want?

This might be a difficult problem for some persons, but James Higgins, a 19-year-old plumber's apprentice, who lives on Stiles street, east of Eighteenth, believes a man can get married and keep a wife in comfort on this munificent sum.

Higgins loved 18-year-old Ella Ragan. They recently decided that if two persons were in love, money was of no consequence; they could live on love and kisses.

An elopement followed, and they were married. They decided to go to their homes and keep the marriage a secret until such a time as Higgins should blossom out as a full-fledged plumber, or until a time when his long-dreamed-of increase in wages should come true.

A friend betrayed them, and now all their friends and acquaintances are asking them "if it is true."

CUT SOLDIERS' BURIAL CASH

Bodies of Men Killed in United States Will Not Be Sent Home at Government Expense.

Washington.—The body of a soldier killed in active service cannot be sent home to his relatives at government expense for burial if he dies in the United States. Moreover, the body must be placed in the coffin issued by the quartermaster general's department. This was the decision of the comptroller of the treasury in the case of Private Albert Laste, Twenty-ninth battery field artillery, who was killed at Fort Riley, Kan., last October.

His commanding officer wished to send his body to his relatives for burial and desiring a better coffin than was supplied by the quartermaster's department, which was only allowed to spend $35 for that purpose, he offered to supply the necessary additional funds.

Scarcity of American Ships.

Out of 4,217 arrivals of all classes of vessels from foreign ports at New York last year the American flag flew over only 760 ships. According to figures given out at the barge office recently 478 of the 760 vessels were steam powered, and there were five ships, 25 barks, six brigs and 249 schooners among the sailing vessels. In this time there were 2,844 steamships under foreign flags entered at the customhouse, of which 1,355 were British and 521 German.

BLUE RIBBON FOR BRAINS.

English Wise Men Will Enter an Interuniversity Thinking Match.

British thinkers, rebelling against the custom of awarding great prizes to college athletes and neglecting the thinkers, have proposed and are urging throughout the kingdom a "blue ribbon for brains," an interuniversity contest between the thinkers and students, for an award of merit.

The neglect of brains and the constant lauding of brawn in the press of Britain, as well as in university circles, has called forth the protest and the demand for recognition and reward of the brainy men of the great schools.

Just what form the thinking match for the championship is to assume is not stated. Those who are urging the contest plead that nine men from each of the great universities meet in the contests. Whether it will consist of looking wise, or in oratory, in written examinations in certain subjects, they do not state. The contest may take the form of the standing long jump, or the running high jump, or the long distance think.

At any rate, the proposition is to make the event of the blue ribbon thinking match of all England and to show the thinkers that they are esteemed as high at least as are the athletes. Who will be the first champion thinker of Great Britain is a question of vital interest.

WAS NOT HALF THROUGH

Darky Pursued by Ghost Was Going to Make Better Time.

Two men in a southern town, getting into an argument made a wager that one of them could not hire a darky to stay all night in a well known haunted house, which no one would occupy.

Hunting up a strapping negro the man offered him $5 to stay in the house during the night, keeping awake all of the time.

The negro entered the place in the evening and kept walking back and forth to keep from going to sleep. Promptly on the stroke of midnight the ghost appeared. Unlike most ghosts, this one was pleasant and affable and, seeing the man, said:

"Ah, good evening; it seems there will be two of us here to-night."

With bulging eyes and drooping jaw the other man began to stammer: "Y-y-yas sah, b-b-but dey won't be long."

And suiting the action to the words he went out of the house and down the road as hard as he could run, with the ghost in close pursuit. When completely out of breath, the darky sat down by the roadside to rest, and the ghost, coming up, blandly remarked: "That was a very pleasant run we had just now."

And the darky replied: "Yas, sah—but it ain't—nuffin—to de one—we're—going ter hab."

American Exports to Orient.

There was a remarkable increase last year in American exports to China and Japan. In ten months the exports to China have been $50,000,000, compared with $20,000,000 in the previous year, and to Japan the total for the same time has jumped from $22,000,000 to $46,500,000. ## HEN BREAKS UP PARTY.

Musical Fowl Struck Up the Wrong Tune and Trouble Ensued.

Fred Andrews, a resident of Burlington, Vt., is the owner of a hen for which he has been offered a fabulous price, when the price of ordinary hens is considered, reports the New York World. This hen is a singer, hence its value. The hen developed its vocal chords when a young chicken, and now when Mr. and Mrs. Andrews takes it in his or her hands and tells it to sing it will chirp away as though singing rather than laying eggs was its regular occupation.

The hen was the unsuspecting cause of a quarrel recently. A few friends had gathered at the Andrews home, and the singing hen was shown. Among the number was Walter Murphy. He heard the hen sing, and finally asked to have it give an Irish air. He was asked what he would have the hen sing, and he called for the "Irish National Hymn."

The hen was told to sing, but instead of the Irish song Murphy desired the hen was singing the Marseillaise. Some of those who represented the French faction took offense at this and a row without serious results followed.

DEVOTION DEMANDED.

Visiting Beaux Must Depart Early or Join in Family Prayer.

A Presbyterian clergyman of this city with two popular daughters, has discovered a new way to end the visits of their beaux at a seemingly hour—a plan which might appeal to lay families as well, says the Philadelphia Record.

For a number of years it has been a custom of this good man to hold evening worship after supper, always concluding the prayers with a short discourse. Things went very well until the daughters began to receive the attentions of young men, and begged off or stole away to make their evening toilets. Then the minister changed the devotional hour until ten in the evening.

This reform created an upheaval, but the father insisted, and at the stroke of ten the visiting young men are now left two alternatives: Either to leave or join with the family in prayer, and it has proved a severe test of their devotion for the daughters when those not prayerfully inclined stick it out, sermon and all.

WHY WAS IT?

When some of the fire companies represented by Otis B. Weaver, fire insurance agent, lost approximately $5,000,000 each in the great San Francisco conflagration, they were not compelled to quit business?

ANSWER: Because one of them is the LARGEST THE WORLD, possessing assets of nearly $70,000,000, and because it held a special conflagration reserve fund of $7,000,000. Because another one of them, with its allied interests does the leading fire insurance business in the United States, which affected for the year 1905, alone, a several times larger income than its probable loss in the great conflagration.

All companies represented by the Weaver agency are giants in capital and assets. They will continue their liberal policy in rates and adjustments. The business of the property owners of Ada and surrounding country is respectfully solicited.

A Brisk Ball Game.

It was a game full of ginger and snap, the baseball tilt Friday afternoon between the "regulars" and the fire boys. This is strongly evidenced by the small score, which was 4 to 3 in the former's favor. It was an exhibition of clean, manly sport, deserving of far more patronage than it received, especially when one considers the gate receipts were for the fire department. The slim attendance was a slam on the town.

The fire boys were the biggest but the other boys were the cleverest and evidently in better practice with the stick and horse hide. The former appeared rather rusty on the diamond. A few "warm-ups" for them might serve to turn the tide in another game. These were the players:

Firemen: Ellis, Luttrell, Parks, Parker, Coffman, Holt, Meaders, Preston, Patterson.

Regulars: O. Davidson, Sugg, Kiser, Reed, Martin, Libert, Shirley, T. Davidson, Chauncey.

Notice.

To Choctaw and Chickasaw Guardians. Amendatory to the request contained in the public advertisement of the coming Choctaw-Chickasaw per capita payment that guardians of minor Indians immediately send to this office a list of all persons for whom they have been appointed guardian and desire to draw the amounts due their wards, all guardians, curators and administrators are further advised that payment can only be made to them upon certified copies of their original letters, and in addition to the customary certificate by the clerk of court that such are true copies, it must also be shown in the certificate of the clerk that such letters are in full force and effect at this time.

This requirement is necessary by reason of the fact that many guardians have either resigned or their appointments have been revoked by the courts.

The Hair Boa.

A young reader, who signs herself "Northern Inquirer," asks how a girl of 16 should wear her hair, whether more than one bow is proper and how many yards in each bow.

Since the receipt of this letter Madame Merri has made a careful study of the subject and finds that there is almost no limit to the number of bows or the number of yards they may contain. But to prevent one's head from having the appearance of a bargain counter or a remnant sale, either one or two bows with three-quarters of a yard in each, or a full yard if only one bow is worn, should be the choice. The prevailing style is the soft pompadour in front with the hair caught up on top with a bow, the ends braided and turned over and fastened with a second bow.

MADAME MERRI.

Shipments of American Tea.

This year 12,000 pounds of choice tea will be shipped from what is at present the only tea farm in the western hemisphere. The farm is at Somerville, S. C. In the face of difficulties that at times seemed insurmountable, but, on the other hand, with the kindly assistance of the United States government, the Somerville tea farm has grown to a point where it can offer serious competition with the best grades of tea shipped from China, India, Formosa or Java. But, above all, it has been demonstrated that, barring the question of labor, the finest tea can be successfully grown at home, and there is nothing that gladdens the heart of an American more than the discovery that he can enter into competition in a field hitherto denied him.—Technical World.

Few Murderers Among Drunkards.

Emil Reich, the well-known publicist in London, has given the prohibitionists a hard nut to crack in his appeal to statistical proofs that "the number of murderers among teetotalers is far greater than that among even confirmed drunkards." Criminologists have long observed that the most deadly enemies of society, the most secretive and furtive in their designs, have no inclination for drink both from natural constitution and the fear of lessening the skill of their execution. But because the greatest criminals have no taste for strong drink is no reason why honest people should not carefully refrain from addiction to brandy and whisky.

Prince or Sergeant.

The German papers are telling a story of the German crown prince. The kaiser's heir had occasion recently to speak to a street sweeper near the barracks of the rifleman of the guard. Good morning, sergeant," said the sweeper, who did not recognize the prince. He said that his son was fighting in southwest Africa, but he hoped soon to have him back safe and sound. The prince, smiling, said: "Why, yes, I hope so, too!" and pressed a five mark piece into the old man's hand. But the sweeper, looking wistfully at the coin and then at the giver, handed it back, saying: "No, no, sergeant; I doubt you have none too much of that yourself!"

Busy Young King.

Alfonso, the young king of Spain, leads a busy life, made up of work, and study, and sport—such a life as any young man might lead. And this is what has endeared him to his people. In no monarchy was the king's majesty more hedged about with ceremony. The young king has broken it all down. His ancestors gloomed behind the curtained windows of the palace. He has gone to the people. He is part of the national life. And his frank and boyish good fellowship has done more to make the monarchy safe than "all the king's horses and all the king's men."

World's Highest Dock.

What is probably the highest dock in the world has recently been completed at Kisumu, on the Victoria Nyanza, in Uganda, at an altitude of 3,700 feet above sea level. The dock has been constructed to accommodate the Nyanza fleet plying on the lake in connection with the Uganda railroad, of which the terminus is at Kisumu, or Port Florence, as it is now officially called. It measures 250 feet in length by 48 feet wide and 14 feet deep. It is excavated out of the solid rock by native labor and occupied 12 months in construction.

Americans on the Congo.

Consul McNally, of Liege, gives another illustration that Americans are abroad in the world by citing the fact that the recent census of the white population in the Congo Free State shows 48 of our people there. Of other nationalities there are 51 Germans, 132 English, 1,400 Belgians (many being government officials), 33 Danes, 45 French, 6 Austrians, 4 Spaniards, 2 Greeks, 109 Dutch, 238 Italians, 31 Luxemburgers, 24 Norwegians, 130 Portuguese, 23 Russians, 129 Swedes and 92 Swiss, making a total of 2,500.

Pertinent Inquiry.

"I—aw—have an idea, doncher know," began young Sapleigh, and—"Excuse me," interrupted Miss Cautique, "but are you quite certain of your ability to distinguish between ideas and wheels?"—Chicago Daily News.

Breakfast Rolls.

One egg, one-half cup each milk and cream, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, three teaspoonfuls granulated maple sugar. Add flour till about as thick as griddle cakes.

Unique Translation.

A Spanish newspaper reporting the launching of the British battleship Dreadnought the other day, translated the ship's name to mean "nothing terrible."

Loudest Thinker.

Senator Allison of Iowa visited the White House the other day and went to see the president. Senator Allison wanted to talk on a very important matter and was much surprised to find the president's office filled with waiting statesmen. The senator began talking to the president in a tone of voice that would have made a telephone operator ashamed. When he had finished the president blurted out the substance of the whole confidential talk in a voice heard by everyone. "We might as well carry on our confidential business with the president by writing open letters," Senator Allison declared on his return to the senate. "He is the loudest thinking man I ever talked with."

"Highest Judicial Courts"

Two pretty girls visiting Washington listened with hushed attention to the words of wisdom that fell from the lips of their guide. He was their Washington cousin, knew all about the capitol and was graciously explaining its sights to them. "And this," said he, stopping before a door in the capitol, "is the supreme court of the United States. That, you know, is the highest judicial court in the land. There are other courts in different parts of the country that are just as high, but this is the highest judicial court." Then they entered and heard an argument delivered before nine judicial judges.

Lovely Cigar.

At the university club banquet in Washington a few nights ago, they gave Uncle Joe Cannon a cigar three feet long that may or may not have been made of tobacco. Congressman Longworth, returning to his duties in the house after his honeymoon, brought for Uncle Joe a cigar made of the best Havana tobacco and about 18 inches long. Uncle Joe took it, smelled of it, turned it over and over, caressed it lovingly, and then said: "By gum, Nick, it looks good enough to put cream on and eat."

Beauty of Complexion.

Beauty of complexion depends upon four things—perfect digestion, good blood, an active liver and good circulation. To improve all of these functions the same prescription will answer, and it is: Deep breathing. Plenty of pure water—eight glasses a day. Fresh vegetables and salads, sufficient sleep to keep the nerves quiet. Outdoor exercise every day. Little or no alcohol, tea, coffee, or drugs of any kind, and particularly the powders and potions taken for nerves and insomnia.

Standing Up for It.

The orchestra, consisting of a violinist and a pianist, stopped to rest, and the chairman of the meeting took occasion to step to the front of the platform to apologize for the poor ventilation of the hall.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I know how we have all been suffering for the last 15 minutes. This bad air—"

"De air is yooost as good as de agompaniment!" interrupted the indignant violinist, glaring at the piano player.—Chicago Tribune.

Changeable.

This story was told in the senate cloakrooms apropos of the speech of Senator Patterson, supposed to be a Democrat, in which he eulogized all of President Roosevelt's policies: A local census enumerator visited the senator's home in Denver and was received by the negro butler. After the usual questions, he asked: "What is the senator's politics?" "Fo' goodness' sake, mister, I dunno; 'de senator ain't done been home since breakfast time."

Oolong Tea.

It is estimated that in 15 years the export of Chinese-grown oolong tea from the port of Amoy has fallen off from approximately 15,000,000 pounds to 900,000 pounds. Of this the United States imported not one pound. There were shipped, however, through the port of Amoy to America, in 1904, 11,324,067 pounds of oolong tea from Formosa.

Weigh Yourself.

As a test of whether you are reducing with sufficient rapidity buy a set of scales. Weigh yourself religiously twice a day and be governed by what they say to you. Though good friends they are truth and you may depend upon it that they will not lie, not even to save your feelings.

Eat Fruit.

Fruit eaten before breakfast or at the meals helps to reduce redness of the nose and otherwise improves the complexion. Care should be taken not to eat the skin or seeds or any other indigestible portion of the fruit. It must, of course, be perfectly ripe.

Wrong Place.

Pa Twaddles—Why are you spanking Tommy?
Ma Twaddles—He needs a lesson, and I'm impressing it on his mind.
"Well, you've got a queer idea as to where the lad's mind is situated."—Chicago Journal.

Why Couldn't She Keep Them?

Mrs. Nagget—Well, I guess I have a perfect right to my opinions.
Mr. Nagget—Certainly you have, my dear. And if you only kept them to yourself no one would ever question that right.—Stray Stories.

That Ward Meeting.

Mrs. Rounder—So you addressed a ward meeting last night? Did you have a full house?
Mr. Rounder (absently)—Once, but the other fellow held fours.—Cleveland Leader.

The Great Unknown.

Among the crowds of visitors in Washington the other day was a young Ohioan named Bud Kiefer. Two of the sights he wanted to see were Senators Foraker and Dick, but one of these gentlemen was absent and the other too busy. The doorkeeper informed Bud that he would call out Senator Clark's secretary, George Gilliland, an Ohio man. Bud was delighted, and he and Mr. Gilliland, an having been schoolmates. As they stood chatting over old times Bud was introduced to one or two senators who passed by. Then Vice President Fairbanks came along and Mr. Gilliland said: "Mr. Vice President, let me introduce Bud Kiefer, of Ohio." The vice president stuck out his hand, Bud grasped it briskly and said: "Glad to meet you, sir. What's the name, please?"

Nobody Safe.

Justice Harlan, of the United States supreme court, hale, hearty and over 70, says: "I suppose I am the only man of my age in the country who can truthfully say that I have never eaten anything that disagreed with me." "Is that due?" asked Secretary Root, "to a careful selection of your food?" "No, sir," said the justice, "but to a careful and intelligent selection of my stomach at an early date. One cannot tell," said Justice Harlan, a few moments later, "where the lightning will strike." He was discussing presidential possibilities. "I remember hearing my father say after Franklin Pierce was nominated, 'John, after this nobody is safe.'"

Cook's Perquisites.

E. Z. Gross, the mayor of Harrisburg, was condemning the fees and unfair perquisites which swell unduly the salaries of many unimportant officeholders. "Fees and perquisites," he said, "tend to cause unjust dealings. Even in the kitchen this is so."

"A butcher told me the other day that a young woman, the cook in a prominent family hereabouts, came into his shop and said:

"Gimme a fine large roast o' beef with plenty o' bones."

"Plenty of bones?" said the butcher in amazement.

"Yes," answered the young woman. "Bones is my perquisite."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

For Wavy Hair.

By brushing your hair carefully at night and arranging it in two braids you will have a wavy crown next day and your hair will look twice as heavy as if left to its natural inclination. If you would have the wave particularly noticeable braid the hair loosely and draw two strands up close to the head by holding one strand out taut and straight. The third strand can be rolled into a little bunch and pinned up close to the head with the other two strands. Then next morning undo your braids and you will brush out a fluffy mass of wavy tresses. Take the curling iron and wave the hair about the face, catching in all the stray ends that are known to the cult as "widow locks."

To Relieve the Boots.

"Why are all the sofas and chairs in the cloakrooms upholstered in leather?" asked Congressman Tyndall, the Ozark mountain member, of Champ Clark. "Dunno," answered Clark. "I suppose it's fashionable and don't wear out like black hair cloth." "Oh, that's it, is it?" Tyndall said. "Somebody told me it was so that we could sharpen our knives without hacking our boots."

Starved Out.

Josh—If the brains are right under the skull, and the hair is a vegetable growth, it must feed on the brains, doesn't it?
Bosh—Guess that's right.
"That's kind of hard on you, Bosh."
"For what reason?"
"Why, man, you're bald-headed!"—Detroit Free Press.

Induces Sweet Sleep.

Take deep breathing just before retiring at night and the deep knee bending work as well. Be sure to leave a window open in your room all night, and with a complete change of clothing (taking care never to sleep in the same underclothes worn all day), you will find you are apt to pass a more comfortable night than usual.

Fortune in Sight.

The Heiress—And haven't you any financial prospects, George, dear?
George—Why, yes, I'm figuring on a sure thing that ought to net me half a million at least.
"What is the sure thing, George, dear?"
"You."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Muscular.

"Yes, Harker married a physical culture girl."

"Did eh? Is she a better housekeeper than other girls?"

"I should say so. She can take the toughest steak and pound on it until it is as tender as quail."—Chicago Tribune.

Too Stout.

Stand erect with your clothing loose. Tip forward without bending your knees until your fingers touch your toes. If you cannot easily touch the tips of your shoes without bending your knees, then you are too stout.

Good Toilet Water.

You can prepare a very good toilet water of 30 drops each of oil of lavender, oil of bergamot, oil of lemon and orange flower water, half pint deodorized alcohol. Cork and shake well.

Sontag Skated.

Skating was tabooed for women in Berlin until the prima donna Henrietta Sontag set the bold example.

Routed Longworth.

Representative Longworth visited the senate the other day. Fearing the ordeal of congratulations likely to occur he came in very quietly and was well within the chamber before he was seen. Senator Kean was quick to offer his congratulations and after him came a dozen or more senators. Longworth got red under the volley of remarks that fell upon him. Just as the incident was at the height of its interest the door opened again and in came Prince Cupid, of Hawaii. "Longworth is here," said Kean, "and Cupid came also." The next moment the young son-in-law of the president was making a hasty flight back toward the south end of the capitol.

German Farmers Protect Birds.

German farmers are trying to induce the smaller birds to return to their old haunts about the fields, and for this purpose are setting out boxes and other artificial devices to serve the birds for homes. The farmers need the birds to destroy the insects, but also because of their direct slaughter, but also because the old trees, in the decayed hollows of which they built their nests, the old copes which they haunted, and both of which are prolific in insects, together with the stagnant pools which yielded them food in abundance, are all disappearing before the closer cultivation of the present time.

Not the England of Old.

It is not the England of Cressy or Poitiers or Agincourt; it is the England of pounds, shillings and pence. It is not the England that rode with Rupert and charged with Cardigan; it is the England of the spinning jenny and the merchant craft. It is not the England of Nelson's quarter deck nor of Nelson's tomb; it is the England of the bank in Threadneedle street and of the counting rooms of Bombay. This England will never fight on a point of honor, as would the England of the black prince, but it will fight for a market, as did the England of Lord Palmerston.—Washington Post.

Hint for the Women.

It is as bad a plan to tire a man with too much honey talk and caresses as it is to neglect him altogether. He must do the wooing, you know. It is perfectly legitimate to coax him along a little with smiles and guarded compliments, but watch out that you don't overdo. Whenever a woman gets to begging a man to love her she loosens her grasp on his heart. If you do love him a little, make him fancy it is the greatest honor to him. Women often cheapen themselves, and when they do men not only lose interest, but respect too.

The Feet.

At the first sign of a corn or bunion the feet should be bathed every morning in cold or warm water, to which a little alum or vinegar has been added. This is a soothing bath, also, for swollen feet and leaves a nice sensation of freshness. Feet that are inclined to corns or bunions should be sponged at night with lavender water or very slightly diluted vinegar. People who suffer from weak ankles should put plenty of salt in the water in which they bathe their feet and should use the water cold.

Uncle's Books.

The Library of Congress now contains 1,344,618 books, 410,352 pieces of music, 133,724 prints and 82,744 maps and charts, according to the annual report of the librarian, Herbert Putnam, just presented to congress. The library gained 68,951 books and about 50,000 pictures and pieces of music during the last year. There were bought 22,998 books, 16,348 were received by gift, 11,763 by copyright and 6,474 gained by exchange with foreign governments.

Wants Thinner Lips.

To reduce the size of one's lips requires an effort of the mind and will. Hold your lips in constantly—pinch them as it were, by contracting the muscles. Learn to speak with precision and learn to enunciate clearly and you will find your lips forming in the beautiful lines of the oratorical mouth as it is called in physiognomy.

For the Thin Person.

I would recommend taking a table-spoonful of olive oil right after each meal. Take only the best. I would recommend drinking with meals and munching things between meals. Eat plenty of pure sugar and don't worry.

Excessive Perspiration.

The disagreeable odor caused by excessive perspiration may be prevented by using ammonia and powdered alum. Of course, cleanliness is the first requisite. Bathe frequently, and apply the ammonia, then the alum.

Red Hands.

For distressingly red hands equal parts of glycerin, lemon juice and rose water may be applied nightly under gloves. Daily applications of lemon juice are sure to produce a whitening effect.

Shifted Phraseology.

"Billionaires are becoming great founders of colleges."
"Yes. Or it might be expressed, colleges are becoming great finders of billionaires."—Washington Star.

Uncle Allen.

"Lots of men," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "are useless in this world because they are merely well wishers instead of being well diggers."—Chicago Tribune.

Too Many Idlers.

If all men would work there would be fewer overworked.

Children's Complexions.

Why is it that the children of the wealthy have, as a rule, complexions of great beauty? Because in their case ordinary care is taken to prevent injury. If they were allowed to go unwashed the skin would become sallow. If they were washed with common household soap the skin would get coarse; and the coarseness would be added to by neglect of rinsing. A child's skin is so sensitive that only the very purest toilet soap should be used to it, and its employment should be followed by at least two rinsings in clear water. Drying should be carried out with very soft towels. A woman of wealth knows that if the face of her little daughter is badly treated, the face of that daughter when grown to marriageable age will suffer. It would be as irrational to suppose the contrary as that it would be possible to injure the child's general health without injuring her health of the future.

Easter Gifts.

Easter is now observed almost as universally as Christmas and it is quite the custom to send gifts mostly in the way of flowers, plants, candy or a novelty egg containing a little gift. Books done up in white paper tied with white and yellow ribbon make very acceptable tokens. In Europe, Easter is the most widely celebrated of all the many festival days. The people of Paris "make to themselves the duty of being happy," which we all can surely try to do, and the best way will be to try to remember some one of whom no one else will think. Easter is the one day in the calendar that calls for unqualified praise: "It is a pretty fashion to be glad; Joy is the grace we say to God."—MADAME MERRI.

Trying to Fill Him.

When the eminent Wu Ting Fang was Chinese minister at Washington, he was the guest of honor at one of the leading clubs, where he made an address, and was afterward entertained by some of the younger members, who thought it would be great fun to get the oriental diplomat intoxicated. They plied him with champagne, highballs and beer until about three a. m., by which time most of the clubmen were maudlin. Cool as a cucumber, Mr. Wu surveyed the crowd, and said, gravely, in his perfect English: "If I didn't know this club was composed entirely of gentlemen I should say that you fellows were trying to get me drunk." The session adjourned very shortly thereafter.

The Complexion.

Every season has its special pernicious effect upon the complexion, and the woman who has learned the secret of refreshing her skin with buttermilk finds in it her weapon to combat the tan and sunburn of summer, and the roughening and chapping winds of winter, as well as the sudden changes of temperature of the intermediate seasons. After any outdoor sport, after dances, after overexertion—in fact, whenever there is need of a cooling or reanimating bath it should be of buttermilk, and the beauty of it is that it does not leave a sour odor, as do milk and cream when they are used for bathing purposes, but leaves one as fresh and sweet as possible.

Good Form.

It is not considered good form to begin at once with a recital of one's ailments in responding to a greeting. Better reply: "Quite well, thank you," than to announce the fact that you are not really so. If the acquaintance is intimate enough, you can say you do not feel as well as usual, but, as the salutation and question are purely a matter of form, the response may be the same.

Solemnity a Medical Asset.

The days are past when every self-respecting doctor was expected to dress in a style tastefully blending the divine with the undertaker. But a "sustained and impenetrable solemnity" is still a priceless possession for those who would achieve success in medicine. If this is a natural gift, so much the better; if not, it should be acquired at any cost.—British Medical Journal.

There Are Others.

"Why do you always tell that story about how you used to drive the cows to pasture whenever we have company to dinner? I don't want people to know that I got the pails ready for you!" said Mrs. Wouldbeswell.
"Oh, what do you care?" said her husband. "In these days of rubber gloves you can't tell who's doing her own dish washing."—Detroit Free Press.

A Beauty Builder.

Bags made of cheesecloth filled about three-quarters full of bran used as a washcloth make of the ordinary tubbing a beauty builder as well as a cleanser. The bran softens the water and is especially beneficial to people who find the winter plunge bath irritating to the skin.

Chinese Close Buyers.

A consul in China remarks sagely that "the Chinese will buy only what they want, and not what foreign manufacturers think they should buy. No effort to force upon them goods manufactured for export and probably unsalable at home, will avail."

Good Sachet.

The best quality of Florentine orris root, powdered, has the odor of violets and is lasting. It is the basis of all violet sachets and no elaborate mixture is more delicious than the orris root alone.

Throw Away the Fine Comb.

The use of a fine comb should be severely frowned upon. It irritates the scalp and causes dandruff to form.

The Nails.

It does require more time than most working girls can afford to spend to manicure the nails. But they may be kept in very good condition with a little care. File frequently, always in oval shape. The nail brush should be used when the hands are washed, and should be full and soft. It should be rubbed on a cake of soap and then used vigorously. The cuticle may be kept down from the nail by rubbing back with a towel. Dissolve an ounce of borax in three ounces of distilled water. To the water in which the hands are to be washed pour enough of the borax water to make it very soft. It is very cleansing and healthy. By its use the hands will be kept in excellent condition—soft and white.

What She Left Off.

A teacher in a certain Episcopal Sunday school had been impressing on her girls the need of making some personal sacrifice during Lent. Accordingly, on the first Sunday of that penitential season, which happened to be a warm spring day, she took occasion to ask each of the class in turn what she had given up for the sake of her religion. Everything went well and the answers were proving highly satisfactory until she came to the youngest member. "Well, Mary," inquired the teacher, "what have you left off for Lent?" "Please, ma'am," stammered the child, somewhat confused, "I—I've left off my leggings."—Lippincott's.

Horse Shod with Gold.

In J. F. Hogan's "History of the Irish in Australia," a number of freaks of suddenly enriched lucky gold diggers are recorded, but one of the queerest is told of a Scotsman named Andrew Cameron, who died in Melbourne the other day at the age of 87. He was returned in 1856 by a goldfields constituency to the first parliament of Victoria, and the story goes that he rode 100 miles down to Melbourne on a horse shod with gold. The golden shoes remained on the horse for three days. Then the native frugality of the Caledonian asserted itself, and they were replaced by baser metal.

Harnessing the Rhone.

The French river Rhone is a subterranean stream near Bellegarde, vanishing in a subterranean gulf and there remaining for a considerable distance. The engineers propose to change this romantic geology by damming the river and turning the water into two parallel tunnels which will conduct the river two miles and a half to two power generating stations. Here a fall of 200 feet will yield 150,000 horsepower for 300 days in the year. The cost is placed at about $5,000,000, and the use of the power is estimated as equivalent to working an inexhaustible coal bed supplying 1,600,000 tons a year.

Frosted Fruits.

These are easy and effective. Beat up the white of an egg, with one teaspoonful of water. Have a sheet of paper, with fine white sugar, lying on the stove to get warm, but you must see that it does not melt. Dip small bunches of grapes into the white of egg, then shake the sugar all over, and lay on a sieve near the fire for the frosting to get dry.

The sugar for black grapes should be white and a deep yellow or pink can be used for green grapes. Arrange with leaves on a crystal or silver dish placed here and there on the table.—Marion Harris Neil.

Grace and Symmetry.

Stop lunching, or, if you must lunch, confine your lunch to stewed fruit, toast and tea. When you dine, dine wisely, but not too well. Eat a chop, but take very little soup and use moderation along with your punch and sweets. For breakfast take one cup of coffee and some rather hard toast and rolls. Follow these diet directions and you will return once more to the grace and symmetry which you had when you joined the club.

Vine Grows Through Oak.

A large oak tree near Chandler has a live grape vine growing through the solid trunk. The swaying of the tree and vine has kept a loose hole worn through the live tree. The grapevine is more than an inch in diameter and reaches the top branches of the tree and bears luscious fruit.—Kansas City Journal.

Notorious Name.

In the early part of the last century a firm of contractors named Jerry Bros. carried on business in Liverpool, and earned an unpleasant notoriety by putting up rapidly-built, showy but ill-constructed houses, so that their name eventually became general for such builders and such work in all parts of the world.

One Privilege of the Rich.

"What would you do if you were rich?" asked the New York man.
"Well," replied the man from Chicago, "I s'pose the first thing I would do would be to have dinner at supper time, like the rest of the rich folks."—Philadelphia Record.

Use Kerosene.

Kerosene oil may be used with very satisfactory results in taking out wagon grease or tar spots if used while the grease is fresh. Then wash out in cold soft water, using no soap.

Always Still.

Friend—Is your husband a quiet man?
Mrs. Wise—Is he? Why, he goes into a comatose condition every time I ask him for a dollar!—Detroit Free Press.

Use Occasionally.

Salt is said to be good as a tooth powder, as it whitens the teeth and hardens the gums.

THE PRESIDENT HOPES TO VISIT OKLAHOMA

Washington, May 12.—When Governor Frantz and R. E. Wood of Shawnee called on President Roosevelt yesterday, Mr. Wood renewed the invitation for the chief executive to attend the commencement exercises in June next year of the University of Oklahoma. Roosevelt was undoubtedly gratified, especially when Wood showed him that his proposed attendance at the Rough Riders' reunion about the same time would enable him to keep both engagements as well as a proposed visit to Missouri.

In reply, the president, warmly grasping Wood's hand, said: "I will be with you. That is, I want to be with you, but you understand that I cannot promise you at this time. However, I will be with you if I can—and I hope I can."

Mr. Wood intimated that the ceremonies incident to Oklahoma and Indian Territory assuming statehood would occur about the same date, and the President again expressed his appreciation of the invitation and the opportunity to be a participant in that celebration. Wood assured him that the university authorities would gladly change the date of the university commencement exercises to suit his convenience, and the President thanked him cordially and sent through him his profound appreciation of the courtesy and consideration shown him.

SENATOR BAILEY'S RATE BILL AMENDMENT DEFEATED

Washington, May 12.—Senator Bailey's non-suspension amendment applying to orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as covered by the railroad rate bill, which has occupied so much of the attention of the Senate in connection with that bill, was yesterday adversely disposed of by the decisive vote of 23 to 54, practically a party vote. The debate on the provision was limited to a brief political speech by its author, in which he said the President had changed his attitude on the question of maintaining the rates fixed by the commission until the courts reach a final decision.

An amendment offered by Senator Rainor, confining the review to constitutional questions, was also voted down.

A number of other amendments offered, in the main by Democrats and by Senator LaFollette, were rejected. The votes were generally along party lines during the entire day, but the Wisconsin Senator voted with the Democrats on all propositions and Messrs. McNary and Morgan, Democrats, voted with the Republicans on most of them.

EVIDENCE IN MURDER TRIAL WHOLLY CIRCUMSTANTIAL

The Stanton murder case has taken two days of court but so far no startling developments have been made. The murder is shrouded in mystery and the fact that ten men have been arrested charged with the crime makes it all the more difficult to try the case. About twelve witnesses have been examined but their evidence is largely circumstantial. It shows that the ten men who are under arrest charged with the murder were all at the resort on the night of the murder and that there had been some trouble between the murdered man and a man named Murphy and also between the deceased and an Indian named Heckman, whom he ejected from the house a couple of times. No threats, however, were heard so far as can be learned. All were drinking and putting in a night of it. Each of the defendants has been examined and each claims to have absolutely no knowledge of when or how the murder was committed. Only one piece of evidence of any importance has been given. One man testified that one of the men charged with the murder came into the resort and said, "The kid has been killed." He went on to state that he found him lying outside and just as he reached him he breathed his last and gasped: "An Indian did it." The Indian, Hickman, with whom the murdered man had had trouble, came up soon after to where the corpse was lying and was placed under arrest. It is generally believed that the ten men who are being tried are all guilty, that they planned the murder and carried it out successfully. Robbery is supposed to have been a motive. There are about ten other witnesses to examine and the trial will probably continue several days next week. It will be held over until next Tuesday or Wednesday, as Judge Winn holds court at Roff Monday.

The prisoners are confined in the jail in the rear of the court house and are under guard.

INDIAN BABIES WILL TAKE UP REMAINING LAND

Muskogee, I. T., May 12.—W. S. D. Moore, in charge of the allotting division of the Cherokee nation, believes that there will be at least 5,000 babies entitled to enrollment under recent legislation. That being true there will be less than one-fourth of them who will get allotments, because there are only 1 million acres of unallotted land in the Cherokee nation.

This is of the poorest quality. An average allotment is $325 worth of land, and if it is 50 cent land it takes a lot of it to make an allotment. The babies who do not get land will receive money, but where it is coming from no one seems to know.

In the Creek nation there are 873,000 acres of unallotted land. Most of this, too, is bad land. It is estimated that there will be about seven hundred babies to be allotted in this nation. This will leave on an average 530 acres for each baby if it is all taken up. There probably will be a little land left unless a great deal of this falls below the average appraised land.

The Choctaws and Chickasaws have more land than they will need. There are 3½ millions of unallotted lands in those two nations exclusive of government segregations, and there will not be 1,000 babies to receive allotments under the new legislation. This will give all the land the babies will need and still have some left, though a great deal of the remaining land is poor.

The total number of babies admitted to rolls since the adult rolls were closed will reach approximately 12,000.

SAN FRANCISCO IS NOW A PROHIBITION TOWN

San Francisco, May 12.—That the authorities here have no intention of loosening the tight grip on the reins which have held the liquor dealers in check since the city suffered its great disaster was made plain yesterday by the emphatic declarations of Mayor Schmitt. When asked as to the likelihood of the saloons being allowed to open in the near future the mayor not only denied that there was a possibility of such action being taken, but added that he had decided that all drinking places should be closed for an indefinite period. He attributed the remarkable absence of crime and the unexceptional order which has prevailed in the city since the conflagration to the fact that the edict against the saloons has been rigidly enforced.

This stand of the mayor was emphasized last afternoon when the board of police commissioners met and unanimously endorsed a suggestion made by the mayor that all saloon licenses now in existence be revoked. San Francisco is today a city without saloons.

OVERDRAFTS
It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

A RECIPE FOR DIAMONDS.

If Anyone Wants to Make a Few,
Here Is the Way to Go
About It.

Would you like to know how to manufacture diamonds—real diamonds? The process is somewhat difficult, requiring time, patience and some outlay of money, but then consider the possible results! The diamond, we know, says the New York Herald, is simply carbon in a transparent crystalline form. It comes of humble parentage and is brother to the lump of coal.

Unlike easily crystallizable bodies, carbon is insoluble in all ordinary solvents, but molten metals will combine with it. Let the diamond maker choose from a solvent for charcoal, melting it in an electric furnace, allowing it to take up as much carbon as it can. In other words, saturate itself with carbon. The crucible containing the white hot metal should then be plunged into a bath of molten lead. The result will be that globules of iron will rise to the surface of the lead and are quickly cooled on the outer surface. Inside the hard crust the iron remains for some time in a molten condition, and, as iron expands in solidifying, the contents of these little globules receive a pressure unattainable by any other means. When the lead becomes solidified some bubbles of iron will be found bound up in the mass. Resolve with some powerful acid first. The lead and then the iron, and a residue of carbonaceous matter will be found to contain tiny crystals—real diamonds. Any chemist with a well equipped laboratory can make diamonds in this way, but the largest of them will not be more than a fiftieth of an inch in diameter.

Birth of a New Russia.
However completely the czar's government may enforce its authority in rebellious cities and districts, there is a new Russia to be reckoned with. The old order has passed away. The proof is found in the free speech of the Russian press. The bare fact that a St. Petersburg daily has dared to predict that if the revolts are crushed now they will break out again in January or February stronger than ever proves a tremendous change. The only line of movement is forward. Free speech must lead to freedom in all things, to the degree that the country may be able to assimilate and make good use of liberty.—Cleveland Leader.

The American Chameleon.
The American chameleon, a small lizard (Anolis carolinensis), inhabits various parts of the southern United States. The little animal has the remarkable habit of quickly and completely changing its colors, varying from brown to yellow of pale green. Its food consists of insects. The little animal is perfectly harmless to higher forms of life, is often kept as a pet, and has been worn attached to a chain as an ornament. The toes are provided with adhesive pads, which enable the lizard to run upon smooth vertical surfaces.—St. Nicholas.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY.

The Day the Widow Was Inconceivable, the Next as Gay as a Lark.

P. F. Rothermel, counsel for the Lake Superior corporation, as the reorganized Consolidated Lake Superior is called, was complimented the other day on the excellent year that the concern has had, says the Pittsburg Gazette.

Mr. Rothermel smiled and answered: "Yes, the company has gotten quickly on its feet. It has recovered quickly. It was not badly hurt, after all. And thus it resembles a widow of whom I heard recently."

"This lady's husband died, and, a day or two after the funeral, a neighbor called to extend her condolences. 'She expected to find the widow frantic with grief. She found her at the piano, singing a gay song. And, astonished at so quick a recovery, the visitor said: 'Well, well! I expected to see you in the deepest distress.' 'Ah,' said the widow, pathetically, 'you should have seen me yesterday.'"

High Old Sleeping Place.

After two years' dangerous work, a bedroom has been built on the summit of Mount Blanc. It is attached to the Janssen observatory, and is meant for Alpinists who have been overtaken by a storm on the summit or lost their way in the snows. A large camp bed occupies all the floor of the room, and can hold 23 persons. The bedroom, which is the highest in the world, is also the most expensive, as every stick and stone had to be carried up by porters from Chamonix. During its erection it was demolished twice and saved with snow-shoes.

CUPID IN A TRUST.

IOWA PASTORS IN PACT REGARDING MARRIAGES.

Ministers Believe Divorce Is a Necessity and Would Control Weddings and Thus Cut Rate—New Law Is Advocated.

Des Moines, Ia.—To form a trust for the purpose of controlling matrimonial ventures is the latest movement on the part of Des Moines ministers. The plans were discussed at a regular weekly meeting of the Ministerial association, and if they are carried out Des Moines will no longer be the Gretna Green for lovers who have not for months calmly reflected over the logic of matrimony.

After a liberal discussion the ministers came to the final judgment that divorce is now a necessity, because of the improper matrimonial ties, and they propose to cure the social evil by guarding the entrance into the matrimonial fields by the strongest safeguards.

The agitation was started by Rev. Oran W. Pifer, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, who declared that he is firm in the belief that no man should put asunder those whom God hath joined together, but he expressed the firm belief that God has little to do with many of the modern weddings. He claimed to have had an interview with Judge William H. McHenry, of the equity court here, in which he learned that fully two-thirds of the divorces were granted in cases where love probably had played a very small part in the marriage. He stated that he believed one of the greatest evils is because men and women plunge into marriage without the proper preparation.

The ministers took up the discussion in a lively manner and practically entered into an agreement that ministers will not in the future marry so indiscriminately.

The preachers believe that where a divorce is wanted there should be arranged a schedule of years according to the offense of the guilty party in which he or she must remain single. It has also been agreed that the pastors will demand to know the past history of the participants, their financial condition and their past ventures, if any. It is expected that at the next meeting of the association rules will be drawn up governing the performance of marriages. The ministers will ask the cooperation of the justices of the peace.

It is possible that their present action will result in asking the legislature this winter to pass a law making more stringent requirements for securing a license.

LOVE, LIVE ON $3 A WEEK.

Young Plumber Takes Bride—Both Are Happy on Small Income—Secret Gets Out.

Philadelphia.—If at the lowest possible estimate it cost a mother three dollars a week to board and clothe a growing boy, how can a young man nearly 20 take unto himself a wife and keep her in this sum—without keeping her in want?

This might be a difficult problem for some persons, but James Higgins, a 19-year-old plumber's apprentice, who lives on Stiles street, east of Eighth, believes a man can get married and keep a wife in comfort on this meager sum.

Higgins loved 18-year-old Ella Ragan. They recently decided that if two persons were in love, money was of no consequence, they could live on love and kisses.

An elopement followed, and they were married. They decided to go to their homes and keep the marriage a secret until such a time as Higgins should blossom out as a full-fledged plumber, or until a time when his long-dreamed-of increase in wages should come true.

CUT SOLDIERS' BURIAL CASH

Bodies of Men Killed in United States Will Not Be Sent Home at Government Expense.

Washington.—The body of a soldier killed in active service cannot be sent home to his relatives at government expense for burial if he dies in the United States. Moreover, the body must be placed in the coffin issued by the quartermaster general's department. This was the decision of the comptroller of the treasury in the case of Private Albert Laste, Twenty-ninth battery field artillery, who was killed at Fort Riley, Kan., last October.

His commanding officer wished to send his body to his relatives for burial and desiring a better coffin than was supplied by the quartermaster's department, which was only allowed to spend $35 for that purpose, he offered to supply the necessary additional funds.

Scarcity of American Ships.

Out of 4,217 arrivals of all classes of vessels from foreign ports at New York last year the American flag flew over only 760 ships. According to figures given out at the bureau office recently 478 of the 760 vessels were steam powered, and there were five ships, 25 barks, six brigs and 246 schooners among the sailing vessels. In this time there were 2,844 steamships under foreign flags entered at the customhouse, of which 1,355 were British and 521 German.

BLUE RIBBON FOR BRAINS.

English Wise Men Will Enter an Interuniversity Thinking Match.

British thinkers, rebelling against the custom of awarding great prizes to college athletes and neglecting the thinkers, have proposed and are urging throughout the kingdom a "blue ribbon for brains," an interuniversity contest between the thinkers and students, for an award of merit.

The neglect of brains and the constant lauding of brawn in the press of Britain, as well as in university circles, has called forth the protest and the demand for recognition and reward of the brainy men of the great schools.

Just what form the thinking match for the championship is to assume is not stated. Those who are urging the contest plead that nine men from each of the great universities meet in the contests. Whether it will consist of looking wise, or in oratory, in written examinations in certain subjects, they do not state. The contest may take the form of the standing long jump, or the running high jump, or the two-minute handicap think, or the long distance think.

At any rate, the proposition is to make the event of the blue ribbon thinking match of all England and to show the thinkers that they are esteemed as high at least as are the athletes. Who will be the first champion thinker of Great Britain is a question of vital interest.

WAS NOT HALF THROUGH

Darkey Pursued by Ghost Was Going to Make Better Time.

Two men in a southern town, getting into an argument made a wager that one of them could not hire a darkey to stay all night in a well known haunted house, which no one would occupy.

Hunting up a strapping negro the man offered him $5 to stay in the house during the night, keeping awake all of the time.

The negro entered the place in the evening and kept walking back and forth to keep from going to sleep. Promptly on the stroke of midnight the ghost appeared. Unlike most ghosts, this one was pleasant and affable, and, seeing the man, said:

"Ah, good evening; it seems there will be two of us here to-night."

With bulging eyes and drooping jaw the other managed to stammer:

"Y-y-yas sah, b-b-but dey won't be long."

And putting the action to the words he went out of the house and down the road as hard as he could run, with the ghost in close pursuit. When completely out of breath, the darkey sat down by the roadside to rest, and the ghost, coming up, blandly remarked:

"That was a very pleasant run we had just now."

And the darkey replied: "Yas, sah—but it ain't—nuffin—to do one—we're—going ter hab."

American Exports to Orient.

There was a remarkable increase last year in American exports to China and Japan. In ten months the exports to China have been $50,000,000, compared with $20,000,000 in the previous year, and to Japan the total for the same time has jumped from $22,000,000 to $48,500,000. Our Pacific ferriage to those countries is direct and Europe cannot hope to compete with it in distance and cheapness.

HEN BREAKS UP PARTY.

Musical Fowl Struck Up the Wrong Tune and Trouble Ensued.

Fred Andrews a resident of Burlington, Vt., is the owner of a hen for which he has been offered a fabulous price, when the price of ordinary hens is considered, reports the New York World. This hen is a singer, hence its value. The hen developed its vocal chords when a young chicken, and now when Mr. and Mrs. Andrews takes it in his or her hands and tells it to sing it will chirp away as though singing rather than laying eggs was its regular occupation.

The hen was the unsuspecting cause of a quarrel recently. A few friends had gathered at the Andrews home, and the singing hen was shown. Among the number was Walter Murphy. He heard the hen sing, and finally asked to have it give an Irish air. He was asked what he would have the hen sing, and he called for the "Irish National Hymn."

The hen was told to sing, but instead of the Irish song Murphy desired the hen was singing the Marseillaise. Some of those who represented the French faction took offense at this and a row without serious results followed.

DEVOTION DEMANDED.

Visiting Beaux Must Depart Early or Join in Family Prayer.

A Presbyterian clergyman of this city with two popular daughters, has discovered a new way to end the visits of their beaux at a seemingly hour—a plan which might appeal to lay families as well, says the Philadelphia Record.

For a number of years it has been a custom of this good man to hold evening worship after supper, always concluding the prayers with a short discourse. Things went very well until the daughters began to receive the attentions of young men, and begged off or stole away to make their evening toilet. Then the minister changed the devotional hour until ten in the evening.

This reform created an upheaval, but the father insisted, and at the stroke of ten the visiting young men are now left two alternatives: Either to leave or join with the family in prayer, and it has proved a severe test of their devotion for the daughters when those not prayerfully inclined stick it out, sermon and all.

Venerable Fun.

"When Benjamin Franklin was young, he made tallow candles."

"But he reformed, of course."

"Reformed from what?"

"From his wick-ed ways."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WHY WAS IT?

When some of the fire companies represented by Otis B. Weaver, fire insurance agent, lost approximately $5,000,000 each in the great San Francisco conflagration, they were not compelled to quit business?

ANSWER: Because one of them is the LARGEST FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WORLD, possessing assets of nearly $70,000,000, and because it held a special conflagration reserve fund of $7,000,000. Because another one of them, with its allied interests does the leading fire insurance business in the United States, which affected for the year 1905, alone, a several times larger income than its probable loss in the great conflagration.

All companies represented by the Weaver agency are giants in capital and assets. They will continue their liberal policy in rates and adjustments.

The business of the property owners of Ada and surrounding country is respectfully solicited.

OTIS B. WEAVER, FIRE INSURANCE AGENT.

A Brisk Ball Game.

It was a game full of ginger and snap, the baseball tilt Friday afternoon between the "regulars" and the fire boys. This is strongly evidenced by the small score, which was 4 to 3 in the former's favor. It was an exhibition of clean, manly sport, deserving of far more patronage than it received, especially when one considers the gate receipts were for the fire department. The slim attendance was a slam on the town.

The fire boys were the biggest but the other boys were the cleverest and evidently in better practice with the stick and horse hide. The former appeared rather rusty on the diamond. A few "warm-ups" for them might serve to turn the tide in another game. These were the players: Firemen: Ellis, Luttrell, Parks, Parker, Coffman, Holt, Meaders, Preston, Patterson.

Regulars: O. Davidson, Sugg, Kiser, Reed, Martin, Libert, Shirley, T. Davidson, Chauncey.

Notice.

To Choctaw and Chickasaw Guardians. Amendatory to the request contained in the public advertisement of the coming Choctaw-Chickasaw per capita payment that guardians of minor Indians immediately send to this office a list of all persons for whom they have been appointed guardian and desire to draw the amounts due their wards, all guardians, curators and administrators are further advised that payment can only be made to them upon certified copies of their original letters, and in addition to the customary certificate by the clerk of court that such are true copies, it must also be shown in the certificate of the clerk that such letters are in full force and effect at this time.

This requirement is necessary by reason of the fact that many guardians have either resigned or their appointments have been revoked by the courts.

The Hair Bow.

A young reader, who signs herself "Northern Inquirer," asks how a girl of 16 should wear her hair, whether more than one bow is proper and how many yards in each bow.

Since the receipt of this letter Madame Merri has made a careful study of the subject and finds that there is almost no limit to the number of bows or the number of yards they may contain. But to prevent one's head from having the appearance of a bargain counter or a remnant sale, either one or two bows with three-quarters of a yard in each, or a full yard if only one bow is worn, should be the choice. The prevailing style is the soft pompadour in front with the hair caught up on top with a bow, the ends braided and turned under and fastened with a second bow.

MADAME MERRI.

Shipments of American Tea.

This year 12,000 pounds of choice tea will be shipped from what is at present the only tea farm in the western hemisphere. The farm is at Somerville, S. C. In the face of difficulties that at times seemed insurmountable, but, on the other hand, with the kindly assistance of the United States government, the Somerville tea farm has grown to a point where it can offer serious competition with the best grades of tea shipped from China, India, Formosa or Java. But, above all, it has been demonstrated that, barring the question of labor, the finest tea can be successfully grown at home, and there is nothing that gladdens the heart of an American more than the discovery that he can enter into competition in a field hitherto denied him.—Technical World.

Few Murderers Among Drunkards.

Emil Reich, the well-known publicist in London, has given the prohibitionists a hard nut to crack in his appeal to statistical proofs that "the number of murderers among teetotalers is far greater than that among even confirmed drunkards." Criminologists have long observed that the most deadly enemies of society, the most secretive and furtive in their designs, have no inclination for drink both from natural constitution and the fear of lessening the skill of their execution. But because the greatest criminals have no taste for strong drink, is no reason why honest people should not carefully refrain from addiction to brandy and whisky.

Prince or Sergeant.

The German papers are telling a story of the German crown prince. The Kaiser's heir had occasion recently to speak to a street sweeper near the barracks of the riflemen of the guard. Good morning, sergeant," said the sweeper, who did not recognize the prince. He said that his son was fighting in south-west Africa, but he hoped soon to have him back safe and sound. The prince, smiling, said: "Why, yes, I hope so, too!" and pressed a five mark piece into the old man's hand. But the sweeper, looking wistfully at the coin and then at the giver, handed it back, saying: "No, no, sergeant; I doubt you have none too much of that yourself!"

Busy Young King.

Alfonso, the young king of Spain, leads a busy life, made up of work, and study, and sport—such a life as any young man might lead. And this is what has endeared him to his people. In no monarchy was the king's majesty more hedged about with ceremony. The young king has broken it all down. His ancestors gloomed behind the curtained windows of the palace. He has gone to the people. He is part of the national life. And his frank and boyish good fellowship has done more to make the monarchy safe than "all the king's horses and all the king's men."

World's Highest Dock.

What is probably the highest dock in the world has recently been completed at Kisumu, on the Victoria Nyanza, in Uganda, at an altitude of 3,700 feet above sea level. The dock has been constructed to accommodate the Nyanza fleet plying on the lake in connection with the Uganda railroad, of which the terminus is at Kisumu, or Port Florence, as it is now officially called. It measures 250 feet in length by 48 feet wide and 14 feet deep. It is excavated out of the solid rock by native labor and occupied 15 months in construction.

Americans on the Congo.

Consul McNally, of Liege, gives another illustration that Americans are abroad in the world by citing the fact that the recent census of the white population in the Congo Free State shows 48 of our people there. Of other nationalities there are 51 Germans, 132 English, 1,400 Belgians (many being government officials), 33 Danes, 45 French, 6 Austrians, 4 Spaniards, 2 Greeks, 109 Dutch, 238 Italians, 31 Luxemburgers, 24 Norwegians, 130 Portuguese, 23 Russians, 129 Swedes and 92 Swiss, making a total of 2,500.

Fertile Inquiry.

"I—aw—have an idea, doncher know," began young Sapleigh, and—"Excuse me," interrupted Miss Causique, "but are you quite certain of your ability to distinguish between ideas and wheels?"—Chicago Daily News.

Breakfast Rolls.

One egg, one-half cup each milk and cream, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, three teaspoonfuls granulated maple sugar. Add flour till about as thick as griddle cakes.

Unique Translation.

A Spanish newspaper reporting the launching of the British battleship Dreadnought the other day, translated the ship's name to mean "nothing terrible."

Loudest Thinker.

Senator Allison of Iowa visited the White House the other day and went to see the president. Senator Allison wanted to talk on a very important matter and was much surprised to find the president's office filled with waiting statesmen. The senator began talking to the president in a tone of voice that would have made a telephone operator ashamed. When he had finished the president blurted out the substance of the whole confidential talk in a voice heard by everyone. "We might as well carry on our confidential business with the president by writing open letters," Senator Allison declared on his return to the senate. "He is the loudest thinking man I ever talked with."

"Highest Judicial Courts"

Two pretty girls visiting Washington listened with hushed attention to the words of wisdom that fell from the lips of their guide. He was their Washington cousin, knew all about the capitol and was graciously explaining its sights to them. "And this," said he, stopping before a door in the capitol, "is the supreme court of the United States. That, you know, is the highest judicial court in the land. There are other courts in different parts of the country that are just as high, but this is the highest judicial court." Then they entered and heard an argument delivered before nine judicial judges.

Lovely Cigar.

At the university club banquet in Washington a few nights ago, they gave Uncle Joe Cannon a cigar three feet long that may or may not have been made of tobacco. Congressman Longworth, returning to his duties in the house after his honeymoon, brought for Uncle Joe a cigar made of the best Havana tobacco and about 18 inches long. Uncle Joe took it, smelled it, turned it over and over, caressed it lovingly, and then said: "By gum, Nick, it looks good enough to put cream on and eat."

Beauty of Complexion.

Beauty of complexion depends upon four things—perfect digestion, good blood, an active liver and good circulation. To improve all of these functions the same prescription will answer, and it is: Deep breathing. Plenty of pure water—eight glasses a day. Fresh vegetables and salads, sufficient sleep to keep the nerves quiet. Outdoor exercise every day. Little or no alcohol, tea, coffee, or drugs of any kind, and particularly the powders and potions taken for nerves and insomnia.

Standing Up for It.

The orchestra, consisting of a violinist and a pianist, stopped to rest, and the chairman of the meeting took occasion to step to the front of the platform to apologize for the poor ventilation of the hall.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I know how we have all been suffering for the last 15 minutes. This bad air—"

"De air is yooost as good as de agompaniment!" interrupted the indignant violinist, glaring at the piano player.—Chicago Tribune.

Changeable.

This story was told in the senate cloakrooms apropos of the speech of Senator Patterson, supposed to be a Democrat, in which he eulogized all of President Roosevelt's policies. A local census enumerator visited the senator's home in Denver and was received by the negro butler. After the usual questions, he asked: "What is the senator's politics?" "Fo' goodness' sake, mister, I dunno; 'de senator ain't been home since breakfast time."

Oolong Tea.

It is estimated that in 15 years the export of Chinese-grown oolong tea from the port of Amoy has fallen off from approximately 15,000,000 pounds to 900,000 pounds. Of this the United States imported not one pound. There were shipped, however, through the port of Amoy to America, in 1904, 11,324,067 pounds of oolong tea from Formosa.

Weigh Yourself.

As a test of whether you are reducing with sufficient rapidity buy a set of scales. Weigh yourself religiously twice a day and be governed by what they say to you. Though good friends they are true and you may depend upon it that they will not lie, not even to save your feelings.

Eat Fruit.

Fruit eaten before breakfast or at the meals helps to reduce redness of the nose and otherwise improves the complexion. Care should be taken not to eat the skin or seeds or any other indigestible portion of the fruit. It must, of course, be perfectly ripe.

Wrong Place.

Pa Twaddles—Why are you spanking Tommy?
Ma Twaddles—He needs a lesson, and I'm impressing it on his mind.

"Well, you've got a queer idea as to where the lad's mind is situated."—Chicago Journal.

Why Couldn't She Keep Them?

Mrs. Nagget—Well, I guess I have a perfect right to my opinions.
Mr. Nagget—Certainly you have, my dear. And if you only kept them to yourself no one would ever question that right.—Stray Stories.

That Ward Meeting.

Mrs. Rounder—So you addressed a ward meeting last night? Did you have a full house?
Mr. Rounder (absently)—Once, but the other fellow held four.—Cleveland Reader.

The Great Unknown.

Among the crowds of visitors in Washington the other day was a young Ohlson named Bud Keifer. Two of the sights he wanted to see were Senators Foraker and Dick, but one of these gentlemen was absent and the other too busy. The doorkeeper informed Bud that he would call out Senator Clark's secretary, George Gilliland, an Ohio man. Bud was delighted, he and Mr. Gilliland, an having been schoolmates. As they stood chatting over old times Bud was introduced to one or two senators who passed by. Then Vice President Fairbanks came along and Mr. Gilliland said: "Mr. Vice President, let me introduce Bud Keifer, of Ohio." The vice president stuck out his hand, Bud grasped it briskly and said: "Glad to meet you, sir. What's the name, please?"

Nobody Safe.

Justice Harlan, of the United States supreme court, hale, hearty and over 70, says: "I suppose I am the only man of my age in the country who can truthfully say that I have never eaten anything that disagreed with me." "Is that due?" asked Secretary Root, "to a careful selection of your food?" "No, sir," said the justice, "but to a careful and intelligent selection of my stomach at an early date. One cannot tell," said Justice Harlan, a few moments later, "where the lightning will strike." He was discussing presidential possibilities. "I remember hearing my father say after Franklin Pierce was nominated, 'John, after this nobody is safe.'"

Cook's Perquisites.

E. Z. Gross, the mayor of Harrisburg, was condemning the fees and unfair perquisites which swell unduly the salaries of many unimportant officeholders. "Fees and perquisites," he said, "tend to cause unjust dealings. Even in the kitchen this is so."

"A butcher told me the other day that a young woman, the cook in a prominent family hereabouts, came into his shop and said:

"Gimme a fine large roast o' beef with plenty o' bones."

"Plenty of bones?" said the butcher in amazement.

"Yes," answered the young woman. "Bones is my perquisite."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

For Wavy Hair.

By brushing your hair carefully at night and arranging it in two braids you will have a wavy crown next day and your hair will look twice as heavy as if left to its natural inclination. If you would have the wave particularly noticeable braid the hair loosely and draw two strands up close to the head by holding one strand out taut and straight. The third strand can be rolled into a little bunch and pinned up close to the head with the other two strands. Then next morning undo your braids and you will brush out a fluffy mass of wavy tresses. Take the curling iron and wave the hair about the face, catching in all the stray ends that are known to the cult as "widow locks."

To Relieve the Boots.

"Why are all the sofas and chairs in the cloakrooms upholstered in leather?" asked Congressman Tyndall, the Ozark mountain member, of Champ Clark. "Dunno," answered Clark. "I suppose it's fashionable and don't wear out like black hair cloth." "Oh, that's it, is it?" Tyndall said. "Somebody told me it was so that we could sharpen our knives without hacking our boots."

Starved Out.

Josh—If the brains are right under the skull, and the hair is a vegetable growth, it must feed on the brains, doesn't it?
Bosh—Guess that's right.

"That's kind of hard on you, Bosh." "For what reason?"

"Why, man, you're bald-headed!"—Detroit Free Press.

Induces Sweet Sleep.

Take deep breathing just before retiring at night and the deep knee bending work as well. Be sure to leave a window open in your room all night, and with a complete change of clothing (taking care never to sleep in the same underclothes worn all day), you will find you are apt to pass a more comfortable night than usual.

Fortune in Sight.

The Heiress—And haven't you any financial prospects, George, dear?
George—Why, yes, I'm figuring on a sure thing that ought to net me half a million at least.

"What is the sure thing, George, dear?"

"You."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Muscular.

"Yes, Harker married a physical culture girl."

"Did eh? Is she a better housekeeper than other girls?"

"I should say so. She can take the toughest steak and pound on it until it is as tender as quail."—Chicago Tribune.

Too Stout.

Stand erect with your clothing loose. Tip forward without bending your knees until your fingers touch your toes. If you cannot easily touch the tips of your shoes without bending your knees, then you are too stout.

Good Toilet Water.

You can prepare a very good toilet water of 30 drops each of oil of lavender, oil of bergamot, oil of lemon and orange flower water, half pint deodorized alcohol. Cork and shake well.

Sontag Skated.

Skating was tabooed for women in Berlin until the prima donna Henrietta Sontag set the bold example.

Bouted Longworth.

Representative Longworth visited the senate the other day. Fearing the ordeal of congratulations likely to occur he came in very quietly and was well within the chamber before he was seen. Senator Kean was quick to offer his congratulations and after him came a dozen or more senators. Longworth got red under the volley of remarks that fell upon him. Just as the incident was at the height of its interest the door opened again and in came Prince Cupid, of Hawaii. "Longworth is here," said Kean, "and Cupid came also." The next moment the young son-in-law of the president was making a hasty flight back toward the south end of the capitol.

German Farmers Protect Birds.

German farmers are trying to induce the smaller birds to return to their old haunts about the fields, and for this purpose are setting out boxes and other artificial devices to serve the birds for homes. The farmers need the birds to destroy the insects, but the birds are disappearing, not only because of their direct slaughter, but also because the old trees, in the decayed hollows of which they built their nests, the old copses which they haunted, and both of which are prolific in insects, together with the stagnant pools which yielded them food in abundance, are all disappearing before the closer cultivation of the present time.

Not the England of Old.

It is not the England of Cressy or Poltairs or Agincourt; it is the England of pounds, shillings and pence. It is not the England that rode with Rupert and charged with Cardigan; it is the England of the spinning jenny and the merchant craft. It is not the England of Nelson's quarter deck nor of Nelson's tomb; it is the England of the bank in Threadneedle street and of the counting rooms of Bombay. This England will never fight on a point of honor, as would the England of the black prince, but it will fight for a market, as did the England of Lord Palmerston.—Washington Post.

Hint for the Women.

It is as bad a plan to tire a man with too much honey talk and caresses as it is to neglect him altogether. He must do the wooing, you know. It is perfectly legitimate to coax him along a little with smiles and guarded compliments, but watch out that you don't overdo. Whenever a woman gets to begging a man to love her she loosens her grasp on his heart. If you do love him a little, make him fancy it is the greatest honor to him. Women often cheapen themselves, and when they do men not only lose interest, but respect too.

The Feet.

At the first sign of a corn or bunion the feet should be bathed every morning in cold or warm water, to which a little alum or vinegar has been added. This is a soothing bath, also, for swollen feet and leaves a nice sensation of freshness. Feet that are inclined to corns or bunions should be sponged at night with lavender water or very slightly diluted vinegar. People who suffer from weak ankles should put plenty of salt in the water in which they bathe their feet and should use the water cold.

Uncle's Books.

The Library of Congress now contains 1,344,818 books, 410,352 pieces of music, 133,724 prints and 82,744 maps and charts, according to the annual report of the librarian, Herbert Putnam, just presented to congress. The library gained 68,951 books and about 50,000 pictures and pieces of music during the last year. There were bought 22,998 books, 16,348 were received by gift, 11,763 by copyright and 6,474 gained by exchange with foreign governments.

Wants Thinner Lips.

To reduce the size of one's lips requires an effort of the mind and will. Hold your lips in constantly—pinch them as it were, by contracting the muscles. Learn to speak with precision and learn to enunciate clearly and you will find your lips forming in the beautiful lines of the oratorical mouth as it is called in physiognomy.

For the Thin Person.

I would recommend taking a table-spoonful of olive oil right after each meal. Take only the best. I would recommend drinking with meals and munching things between meals. Eat plenty of pure sugar and don't worry.

Excessive Perspiration.

The disagreeable odor caused by excessive perspiration may be prevented by using ammonia and powdered alum. Of course, cleanliness is the first requisite. Bathe frequently, and apply the ammonia, then the alum.

Red Hands.

For distressingly red hands equal parts of glycerin, lemon juice and rose water may be applied nightly under gloves. Daily applications of lemon juice are sure to produce a whitening effect.

Shifted Phraseology.

"Billionaires are becoming great founders of colleges."
"Yes. Or it might be expressed, colleges are becoming great finders of billionaires."—Washington Star.

Uncle Allen.

"Lots of men," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "are useless in this world because they are merely well wishers instead of being well diggers."—Chicago Tribune.

Too Many Idlers.

If all men would work there would be fewer overworked.

Children's Complexions.

Why is it that the children of the wealthy have, as a rule, complexions of great beauty? Because in their case ordinary care is taken to prevent injury. If they were allowed to go unwashed the skin would become sallow. If they were washed with common household soap the skin would get coarse; and the coarseness would be added to by neglect of rinsing. A child's skin is so sensitive that only the very purest toilet soap should be used to it, and its employment should be followed by at least two rinsings in clear water. Drying should be carried out with very soft towels. A woman of wealth knows that if the face of her little daughter is badly treated, the face of that daughter when grown to marriageable age will suffer. It would be as irrational to suppose the contrary as that it would be possible to injure the child's general health without injuring her health of the future.

Easter Gifts.

Easter is now observed almost universally as Christmas and it is quite the custom to send gifts mostly in the way of flowers, plants, candy or a novelty egg containing a little gift. Books done up in white paper tied with white and yellow ribbon make very acceptable tokens. In Europe, Easter is the most widely celebrated of all the many festival days. The people of Paris "make to themselves the duty of being happy," which we all can surely try to do, and the best way will be to try to remember some one of whom no one else will think. Easter is the one day in the calendar that calls for unqualified praise:

"It is a pretty fashion to be glad; Joy is the grace we say to God."

MADAME MERRI.

Trying to Fill Him.

When the eminent Wu Ting Fang was Chinese minister at Washington, he was the guest of honor at one of the leading clubs, where he made an address, and was afterward entertained by some of the younger members, who thought it would be great fun to get the oriental diplomat intoxicated. They piled him with champagne, highballs and beer until about three a. m., by which time most of the clubmen were maudlin. Cool as a cucumber, Mr. Wu surveyed the crowd, and said, gravely, in his perfect English: "If I didn't know this club was composed entirely of gentlemen I should say that you fellows were trying to get me drunk." The session adjourned very shortly thereafter.

The Complexion.

Every season has its special pernicious effect upon the complexion, and the woman who has learned the secret of refreshing her skin with buttermilk finds in it her weapon to combat the tan and sunburn of summer, and the roughening and chapping winds of winter, as well as the sudden changes of temperature of the intermediate seasons. After any outdoor sport, after dances, after overexertion—in fact, whenever there is need of a cooling or reanimating bath it should be of buttermilk, and the beauty of it is that it does not leave a sour odor, as do milk and cream when they are used for bathing purposes, but leaves one as fresh and sweet as possible.

Good Form.

It is not considered good form to begin at once with a recital of one's ailments in responding to a greeting. Better reply: "Quite well, thank you," than to announce the fact that you are not really so. If the acquaintance is intimate enough, you can say you do not feel as well as usual, but, as the salutation and question are purely a matter of form, the response may be the same.

Solemnity a Medical Asset.

The days are past when every self-respecting doctor was expected to dress in a style tastefully blending the divine with the undertaker. But a "sustained and impenetrable solemnity" is still a priceless possession for those who would achieve success in medicine. If this is a natural gift, so much the better; if not, it should be acquired at any cost.—British Medical Journal.

There Are Others.

"Why do you always tell that story about how you used to drive the cows to pasture whenever we have company to dinner? I don't want people to know that I got the pails ready for you!" said Mrs. Wouldbeswell.

"Oh, what do you care?" said her husband. "In these days of rubber gloves you can't tell who's doing her own dish washing."—Detroit Free Press.

A Beauty Builder.

Bags made of cheesecloth filled about three-quarters full of bran used as a washcloth make of the ordinary tubbing a beauty builder as well as a cleanser. The bran softens the water and is especially beneficial to people who find the winter plunge bath irritating to the skin.

Chinese Close Buyers.

A consul in China remarks sagely that "the Chinese will buy only what they want, and not what foreign manufacturers think they should buy. No effort to force upon them goods manufactured for export and probably unsalable at home, will avail."

Good Sachet.

The best quality of Florentine orris root, powdered, has the odor of violets and is lasting. It is the basis of all violet sachets and no elaborate mixture is more delicious than the orris root alone.

Throw Away the Fine Comb.

The use of a fine comb should be severely frowned upon. It irritates the scalp and causes dandruff to form.

The Nails.

It does require more time than most working girls can afford to spend to manure the nails. But they may be kept in very good condition with a little care. File frequently, always in oval shape. The nail brush should be used when the hands are washed, and should be full and soft. It should be rubbed on a cake of soap and then used vigorously. The cuticle may be kept down from the nail by rubbing back with a towel. Dissolve an ounce of borax in three ounces of distilled water. To the water in which the hands are to be washed pour enough of the borax water to make it very soft. It is very cleansing and healthy. By its use the hands will be kept in excellent condition—soft and white.

What She Left Off.

A teacher in a certain Episcopal Sunday school had been impressing on her girls the need of making some personal sacrifice during Lent. Accordingly, on the first Sunday of that penitential season, which happened to be a warm spring day, she took occasion to ask each of the class in turn what she had given up for the sake of her religion. Everything went well and the answers were proving highly satisfactory until she came to the youngest member. "Well, Mary," inquired the teacher, "what have you left off for Lent?" "Please, ma'am," stammered the child, somewhat confused, "I—I've left off my leggins."—Lippincott's.

Horse Shod with Gold.

In J. F. Hogan's "History of the Irish in Australia," a number of freaks of suddenly enriched lucky gold diggers are recorded, but one of the queerest is told of a Scotsman named Andrew Cameron, who died in Melbourne the other day at the age of 87. He was returned in 1856 by a goldfields constituency to the first parliament of Victoria, and the story goes that he rode 100 miles down to Melbourne on a horse shod with gold. The golden shoes remained on the horse for three days. Then the native frugality of the Caledonian asserted itself, and they were replaced by baser metal.

Harnessing the Rhone.

The French river Rhone is a subterranean stream near Bellegarde, vanishing in a subterranean gulf and there remaining for a considerable distance. The engineers propose to change this romantic geology by damming the river and turning the water into two parallel tunnels which will conduct the river two miles and a half to two power generating stations. Here a fall of 200 feet will yield 150,000 horsepower for 300 days in the year. The cost is placed at about $5,000,000, and the use of the power is estimated as equivalent to working an inexhaustible coal bed supplying 1,600,000 tons a year.

Frosted Fruits.

These are easy and effective. Beat up the white of an egg, with one teaspoonful of water. Have a sheet of paper, with fine white sugar, lying on the stove to get warm, but you must see that it does not melt. Dip small bunches of grapes into the white of egg, then shake the sugar all over, and lay on a sieve near the fire for the frosting to get dry. The sugar for black grapes should be white and a deep yellow or pink can be used for green grapes. Arrange with leaves on a crystal or silver dish placed here and there on the table.—Marion Harris Neil.

Grace and Symmetry.

Stop lunching, or, if you must lunch, confine your lunch to stewed fruit, toast and tea. When you dine, dine wisely, but not too well. Eat a chop, but take very little soup and use moderation along with your punch and sweets. For breakfast take one cup of coffee and some rather hard toast and rolls. Follow these diet directions and you will return once more to the grace and symmetry which you had when you joined the club.

Vine Grows Through Oak.

A large oak tree near Chandler has a live grape vine growing through the solid trunk. The swaying of the tree and vine has kept a loose hole worn through the live tree. The grapevine is more than an inch in diameter and reaches the top branches of the tree and bears luscious fruit.—Kansas City Journal.

Notorious Name.

In the early part of the last century a firm of contractors named Jerry Bros. carried on business in Liverpool, and earned an unpleasant notoriety by putting up rapidly-built, showy but ill-constructed houses, so that their name eventually became general for such builders and such work in all parts of the world.

One Privilege of the Rich.

"What would you do if you were rich?" asked the New York man. "Well," replied the man from Chicago, "I s'pose the first thing I would do would be to have dinner at supper time, like the rest of the rich folks."—Philadelphia Record.

Use Kerosene.

Kerosene oil may be used with very satisfactory results in taking out wagon grease or tar spots if used while the grease is fresh. Then wash out in cold soft water, using no soap.

Always Still.

Friend—Is your husband a quiet man? Mrs. Wise—Is he? Why, he goes into a comatose condition every time I ask him for a dollar!—Detroit Free Press.

Use Occasionally.

Salt is said to be good as a tooth powder, as it whitens the teeth and keeps the gums.

THE PRESIDENT HOPES TO VISIT OKLAHOMA

Washington, May 12.—When Governor Frantz and R. E. Wood of Shawnee called on President Roosevelt yesterday, Mr. Wood renewed the invitation for the chief executive to attend the commencement exercises in June next year of the University of Oklahoma. Roosevelt was undoubtedly gratified, especially when Wood showed him that his proposed attendance at the Rough Riders' reunion about the same time would enable him to keep both engagements as well as a proposed visit to Missouri.

In reply, the president, warmly grasping Wood's hand, said: "I will be with you. That is, I want to be with you, but you understand that I cannot promise you at this time. However, I will be with you if I can—and I hope I can."

Mr. Wood intimated that the ceremonies incident to Oklahoma and Indian Territory assuming statehood would occur about the same date, and the President again expressed his appreciation of the invitation and the opportunity to be a participant in that celebration. Wood assured him that the university authorities would gladly change the date of the university commencement exercises to suit his convenience, and the President thanked him cordially and sent through him his profound appreciation of the courtesy and consideration shown him.

SENATOR BAILEY'S RATE BILL AMENDMENT DEFEATED

Washington, May 12.—Senator Bailey's non-suspension amendment applying to orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as covered by the railroad rate bill, which has occupied so much of the attention of the Senate in connection with that bill, was yesterday adversely disposed of by the decisive vote of 23 to 54, practically a party vote. The debate on the provision was limited to a brief political speech by its author, in which he said the President had changed his attitude on the question of maintaining the rates fixed by the commission until the courts reach a final decision. An amendment offered by Senator Rainor, confining the review to constitutional questions, was also voted down.

A number of other amendments offered, in the main by Democrats and by Senator LaFollette, were rejected. The votes were generally along party lines during the entire day, but the Wisconsin Senator voted with the Democrats on all propositions and Messrs. McKaery and Morgan, Democrats, voted with the Republicans on most of them.

EVIDENCE IN MURDER TRIAL WHOLLY CIRCUMSTANTIAL

The Stanton murder case has taken two days of court but so far no startling developments have been made. The murder is shrouded in mystery and the fact that ten men have been arrested charged with the crime makes it all the more difficult to try the case. About twelve witnesses have been examined but their evidence is largely circumstantial. It shows that the ten men who are under arrest charged with the murder were all at the resort on the night of the murder and that there had been some trouble between the murdered man and a man named Murphy and also between the deceased and an Indian named Heckman, whom he ejected from the house a couple of times. No threats, however, were heard so far as can be learned. All were drinking and putting in a night of it. Each of the defendants has been examined and each claims to have absolutely no knowledge of when or how the murder was committed. Only one piece of evidence of any importance has been given. One man testified that one of the men charged with the murder came into the resort and said, "The kid has been killed." He went on to state that he found him lying outside and just as he reached him he breathed his last and gasped: "An Indian did it." The Indian, Hickman, with whom the murdered man had had trouble, came up soon after to where the corpse was lying and was placed under arrest. It is generally believed that the ten men who are being tried are all guilty, that they planned the murder and carried it out successfully. Robbery is supposed to have been a motive. There are about ten other witnesses to examine and the trial will probably continue several days next week. It will be held over until next Tuesday or Wednesday, as Judge Winn holds court at Roff Monday. The prisoners are confined in the jail in the rear of the court house and are under guard.

INDIAN BABIES WILL TAKE UP REMAINING LAND

Muskogee, I. T., May 12.—W. S. D. Moore, in charge of the allotting division of the Cherokee nation, believes that there will be at least 5,000 babies entitled to enrollment under recent legislation. That being true there will be less than one-fourth of them who will get allotments, because there are only 1 million acres of unallotted land in the Cherokee nation.

This is of the poorest quality. An average allotment is $325 worth of land, and if it is 50 cent land it takes a lot of it to make an allotment. The babies who do not get land will receive money, but where it is coming from no one seems to know.

In the Creek nation there are 878,000 acres of unallotted land. Most of this, too, is bad land. It is estimated that there will be about seven hundred babies to be allotted in this nation. This will leave on an average 530 acres for each baby if it is all taken up. There probably will be a little land left unless a great deal of this falls below the average apportioned land.

The Choctaws and Chickasaws have more land than they will need. There are 3½ millions of unallotted lands in those two nations exclusive of government segregations, and there will not be 1,000 babies to receive allotments under the new legislation. This will give all the land the babies will need and still have some left, though a great deal of the remaining land is poor.

The total number of babies admitted to rolls since the adult rolls were closed will reach approximately 12,000.

SAN FRANCISCO IS NOW A PROHIBITION TOWN

San Francisco, May 12.—That the authorities here have no intention of loosening the tight grip on the reins which have held the liquor dealers in check since the city suffered its great disaster was made plain yesterday by the emphatic declarations of Mayor Schmitz. When asked as to the likelihood of the saloons being allowed to open in the near future the mayor not only denied that there was a possibility of such action being taken, but added that he had decided that all drinking places should be closed for an indefinite period. He attributed the remarkable absence of crime and the unexceptional order which has prevailed in the city since the conflagration to the fact that the edict against the saloons has been rigidly enforced.

This stand of the mayor was emphasized last afternoon when the board of police commissioners met and unanimously endorsed a suggestion made by the mayor that all saloon licenses now in existence be revoked. San Francisco is today a city without saloons.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

A RECIPE FOR DIAMONDS.

If Anyone Wants to Make a Few,
Here Is the Way to Go
About It.

Would you like to know how to manufacture diamonds—real diamonds? The process is somewhat difficult, requiring time, patience and some outlay of money, but then consider the possible results! The diamond, we know, says the New York Herald, is simply carbon in a transparent crystalline form. It comes of humble parentage and is brother to the lump of coal.

Unlike easily crystallizable bodies, carbon is insoluble in all ordinary solvents, but molten metals will combine with it. Let the diamond maker choose iron for a solvent for charcoal, melting it in an electric furnace, allowing it to take up as much carbon as it can—in other words, saturate itself with carbon. The crucible containing the white hot metal should then be plunged into a bath of molten lead. The result will be that globules of iron will rise to the surface of the lead and are quickly cooled on the outer surface. Inside the hard crust the iron remains for some time in a molten condition, and, as iron expands in solidifying, the contents of these little globules receive a pressure unattainable by any other means. When the lead becomes solidified some bubbles of iron will be found bound up in the mass. Dissolve with some powerful acid first the lead and then the iron, and a real due of carbonaceous matter will be found to contain tiny crystals—real diamonds. Any chemist with a well equipped laboratory can make diamonds in this way, but the largest of them will not be more than a fiftieth of an inch in diameter.

Birth of a New Russia.
However completely the czar's government may enforce its authority in rebellious cities and districts, there is a new Russia to be reckoned with. The old order has passed away. The proof is found in the free speech of the Russian press. The bare fact that a St. Petersburg daily has dared to predict that if the revolts are crushed now they will break out again in January or February stronger than ever proves a tremendous change. The only line of movement is forward. Free speech must lead to freedom in all things, to the degree that the country may be able to assimilate and make good use of liberty.—Cleveland Leader.

The American Chameleon.
The American chameleon, a small lizard (Anolis carolinensis), inhabits various parts of the southern United States. The little animal has the remarkable habit of quickly and completely changing its colors, varying from brown to yellow of pale green. Its food consists of insects. The little animal is perfectly harmless to higher forms of life, is often kept as a pet, and has been worn attached to a chain as an ornament. The toes are provided with adhesive pads, which enable the lizard to run upon smooth vertical surfaces.—St. Nicholas.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY.

One Day the Widow Was Inconceivable, the Next as Gay as a Lark.

P. F. Rothermel, counsel for the Lake Superior corporation, as the reorganized Consolidated Lake Superior is called, was complimented the other day on the excellent year that the concern has had, says the Pittsburg Gazette.

Mr. Rothermel smiled and answered:

"Yes, the company has gotten quickly on its feet. It has recovered quickly. It was not badly hurt, after all. And thus it resembles a widow of whom I heard recently.

"This lady's husband died, and, a day or two after the funeral, a neighbor called to extend her condolences.

"She expected to find the widow frantic with grief. She found her at the piano, singing a gay song. And, astonished at so quick a recovery, the visitor said:

"Well, well! I expected to see you in the deepest distress."

"Ah," said the widow, pathetically, "you should have seen me yesterday."

High Old Sleeping Place.

After two years' dangerous work, a bedroom has been built on the summit of Mount Blanc. It is attached to the Jannsen observatory, and is meant for Alpinists who have been overtaken by a storm on the summit or lost their way in the snows. A large camp bed occupies all the floor of the room, and can hold 23 persons. The bedroom, which is the highest in the world, is also the most expensive, as every stick and stone had to be carried up by porters from Chamonix. During its erection it was demolished twice and rebuilt with snow-slides.

CUPID IN A TRUST.

IOWA PASTORS IN PACT REGARDING MARRIAGES.

Ministers Believe Divorce Is a Necessity and Would Control Weddings and Thus Cut Rate—New Law Is Advocated.

Des Moines, Ia.—To form a trust for the purpose of controlling matrimonial ventures is the latest movement on the part of Des Moines ministers. The plans were discussed at a regular weekly meeting of the Ministerial association, and if they are carried out Des Moines will no longer be the Gretna Green for lovers who have not for months calmly reflected over the logic of matrimony.

After a liberal discussion the ministers came to the final judgment that divorce is now a necessity, because of the improper matrimonial ties, and they propose to cure the social evil by guarding the entrance into the matrimonial fields by the strongest safeguards.

The agitation was started by Rev. Oran W. Fifer, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, who declared that he is firm in the belief that no man should put asunder those whom God hath joined together, but he expressed the firm belief that God has little to do with many of the modern weddings. He claimed to have had an interview with Judge William H. McHenry, of the equity court here, in which he learned that fully two-thirds of the divorces were granted in cases where love probably had played a very small part in the marriage. He stated that he believed one of the greatest evils is because men and women plunge into marriage without the proper preparation.

The ministers took up the discussion in a lively manner and practically entered into an agreement that ministers will not in the future marry so indiscriminately.

The preachers believe that where a divorce is wanted there should be arranged a schedule of years according to the offense of the guilty party in which he or she must remain single.

It has also been agreed that the pastors will demand to know the past history of the participants, their financial condition and their past ventures, if any. It is expected that at the next meeting of the association rules will be drawn up governing the performance of marriages. The ministers will ask the cooperation of the justices of the peace.

It is possible that their present action will result in asking the legislature this winter to pass a law making more stringent requirements for securing a license.

LOVE, LIVE ON $3 A WEEK

Young Plumber Takes Bride—Both Are Happy on Small Income—Secret Gets Out.

Philadelphia.—If at the lowest possible estimate it cost a mother three dollars a week to board and clothe a growing boy, how can a young man nearly 20 take unto himself a wife and keep her in this sum—without keeping her in want?

This might be a difficult problem for some persons, but James Higgins, a 19-year-old plumber's apprentice, who lives on Stiles street, east of Eighteenth, believes a man can get married and keep a wife in comfort on this meager sum.

Higgins loved 18-year-old Ella Ragan. They recently decided that if two persons were in love, money was of no consequence, they could live on love and kisses.

An elopement followed, and they were married. They decided to go to their homes and keep the marriage a secret until such a time as Higgins should blossom out as a full-fledged plumber, or until a time when his long-dreamed-of increase in wages should come true.

CUT SOLDIERS' BURIAL CASH

Bodies of Men Killed in United States Will Not Be Sent Home at Government Expense.

Washington.—The body of a soldier killed in active service cannot be sent home to his relatives at government expense for burial if he dies in the United States. Moreover, the body must be placed in the coffin issued by the quartermaster general's department. This was the decision of the comptroller of the treasury in the case of Private Albert Laste, Twenty-ninth battery field artillery, who was killed at Fort Riley, Kan., last October.

His commanding officer wished to send his body to his relatives for burial and desiring a better coffin than was supplied by the quartermaster's department, which was only allowed to spend $35 for that purpose, he offered to supply the necessary additional funds.

Scarcity of American Ships.

Out of 4,217 arrivals of all classes of vessels from foreign ports at New York last year the American flag flew over only 760 ships. According to figures given out at the bureau office recently 478 of the 760 vessels were steam powered, and there were five ships, 25 barks, six brigs and 246 schooners among the sailing vessels. In this time there were 2,944 steamships under foreign flags entered at the customhouse, of which 1,355 were British and 521 German.

BLUE RIBBON FOR BRAINS.

English Wise Men Will Enter an Interuniversity Thinking Match.

British thinkers, rebelling against the custom of awarding great prizes to college athletes and neglecting the thinkers, have proposed and are urging throughout the kingdom a "blue ribbon for brains" an interuniversity contest between the thinkers and students, for an award of merit.

The neglect of brains and the constant lauding of brawn in the press of Britain, as well as in university circles, has called forth the protest and the demand for recognition and reward of the brainy men of the great schools.

Just what form the thinking match for the championship is to assume is not stated. Those who are urging the contest plead that nine men from each of the great universities meet in the contests. Whether it will consist of looking wise, or in oratory, in written examinations in certain subjects, they do not state. The contest may take the form of the standing long jump, or the running high jump, or the two-minute handicap think, or the long distance think.

At any rate, the proposition is to make the event of the blue ribbon thinking match of all England and to show the thinkers that they are esteemed as high at least as the athletes. Who will be the first champion thinker of Great Britain is a question of vital interest.

WAS NOT HALF THROUGH

Darkey Pursued by Ghost Was Going to Make Better Time.

Two men in a southern town, getting into an argument made a wager that one of them could not hire a darkey to stay all night in a well known haunted house, which no one would occupy.

Hunting up a strapping negro the man offered him $5 to stay in the house during the night, keeping awake all of the time.

The negro entered the place in the evening and kept walking back and forth to keep from going to sleep. Promptly on the stroke of midnight the ghost appeared. Unlike most ghosts, this one was pleasant and affable, and, seeing the man, said:

"Ah, good evening; it seems there will be two of us here to-night."

With bulging eyes and drooping jaw the other managed to stammer: "Y-y-yah sah, b-b-b dey won't be long."

And sulking the action to the words he went out of the house and down the road as hard as he could run, with the ghost in close pursuit. When completely out of breath, the darkey sat down by the roadside to rest, and the ghost, coming up, blandly remarked: "That was a very pleasant run we had just now."

And the darkey replied: "Yas, sah—but it ain't nuffin—to de one—we're—going ter hab."

American Exports to Orient.

There was a remarkable increase last year in American exports to China and Japan. In ten months the exports to China have been $50,000,000, compared with $20,000,000 in the previous year, and to Japan the total for the same time has jumped from $22,000,000 to $46,500,000. Our Pacific ferriage to those countries is direct and Europe cannot hope to compete with it in distance and cheapness.

HEN BREAKS UP PARTY.

Musical Fowl Struck Up the Wrong Tune and Trouble Ensued.

Fred Andrews, a resident of Burlington, Vt., is the owner of a hen for which he has been offered a fabulous price, when the price of ordinary hens is considered, reports the New York World. This hen is a singer, hence its value. The hen developed its vocal chords when a young chicken, and now when Mr. and Mrs. Andrews takes it in his or her hands and tells it to sing it will chirp away as though singing rather than laying eggs was its regular occupation.

The hen was the unsuspecting cause of a quarrel recently. A few friends had gathered at the Andrews home, and the singing hen was shown. Among the number was Walter Murphy. He heard the hen sing, and finally asked to have it give an Irish air. He was asked what he would have the hen sing, and he called for the "Irish National Hymn."

The hen was told to sing, but instead of the Irish song Murphy desired the hen was singing the Marseillaise. Some of those who represented the French faction took offense at this and a row without serious results followed.

DEVOTION DEMANDED.

Visiting Beaux Must Depart Early or Join in Family Prayer.

A Presbyterian clergyman of this city with two popular daughters, has discovered a new way to end the visits of their beaux at a seemingly hour—a plan which might appeal to lay families as well, says the Philadelphia Record.

For a number of years it has been a custom of this good man to hold evening worship after supper, always concluding the prayers with a short discourse. Things went very well until the daughters began to receive the attentions of young men, and begged off or stole away to make their evening toilet. Then the minister changed the devotional hour until ten in the evening.

This reform created an upheaval, but the father insisted, and at the stroke of ten the visiting young men are now left ten alternatives: Either to leave or join with the family in prayer, and it has proved a severe test of their devotion for the daughters when those not prayerfully inclined stick it out, sermon and all.

WHY WAS IT?

When some of the fire companies represented by Otis B. Weaver, fire insurance agent, lost approximately $5,000,000 each in the great San Francisco conflagration, they were not compelled to quit business?

ANSWER: Because one of them is the LARGEST FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WORLD, possessing assets of nearly $70,000,000, and because it held a special conflagration reserve fund of $7,000,000. Because another one of them, with its allied interests does the leading fire insurance business in the United States, which affected for the year 1905, alone, a several times larger income than its probable loss in the great conflagration.

All companies represented by the Weaver agency are giants in capital and assets. They will continue their liberal policy in rates and adjustments.

The business of the property owners of Ada and surrounding country is respectfully solicited.

A Brisk Ball Game.

It was a game full of ginger and snap, the baseball tilt Friday afternoon between the "regulars" and the fire boys. This is strongly evidenced by the small score, which was 4 to 8 in the former's favor. It was an exhibition of clean, manly sport, deserving of far more patronage than it received, especially when one considers the gate receipts were for the fire department. The slim attendance was a slam on the town.

The fire boys were the biggest but the other boys were the cleverest and evidently in better practice with the stick and horse hide. The former appeared rather rusty on the diamond. A few "warm-ups" for them might serve to turn the tide in another game. These were the players: Firemen: Ellis, Luttrell, Parks, Parker, Coffman, Holt, Meaders, Preston, Patterson.

Regulars: O. Davidson, Sugg, Kisar, Reed, Martin, Libert, Shirley, T. Davidson, Chauncey.

Notice.

To Choctaw and Chickasaw Guardians. Amendatory to the request contained in the public advertisement of the coming Choctaw-Chickasaw per capita payment that guardians of minor Indians immediately send to this office a list of all persons for whom they have been appointed guardian and desire to draw the amounts due their wards, all guardians, curators and administrators are further advised that payment can only be made to them upon certified copies of their original letters, and in addition to the customary certificate by the clerk of court that such are true copies, it must also be shown in the certificate of the clerk that such letters are in full force and effect at this time.

This requirement is necessary by reason of the fact that many guardians have either resigned or their appointments have been revoked by the courts.

The Hair Boa.
A young reader, who signs herself "Northern Inquirer," asks how a girl of 16 should wear her hair, whether more than one bow is proper and how many yards in each bow.
Since the receipt of this letter Madame Merri has made a careful study of the subject and finds that there is almost no limit to the number of bows or the number of yards they may contain. But to prevent one's head from having the appearance of a bargain counter or a remnant sale, either one or two bows with three-quarters of a yard in each, or a full yard if only one bow is worn, should be the choice. The prevailing style is the soft pompadour in front with the hair caught up on top with a bow, the ends braided and turned under and fastened with a second bow.
MADAME MERRI.

Shipments of American Tea.
This year 12,000 pounds of choice tea will be shipped from what is at present the only tea farm in the western hemisphere. The farm is at Somerville, S. C. in the face of difficulties that at times seemed insurmountable, but, on the other hand, with the kindly assistance of the United States government, the Somerville tea farm has grown to a point where it can offer serious competition with the best grades of tea shipped from China, India, Formosa or Java. But, above all, it has been demonstrated that, barring the question of labor, the finest tea can be successfully grown at home, and there is nothing that gladdens the heart of an American more than the discovery that he can enter into competition in a field hitherto denied him.—Technical World.

Few Murderers Among Drunkards.
Emil Reich, the well-known publicist in London, has given the prohibitionists a hard nut to crack in his appeal to statistical proofs that "the number of murderers among teetotalers is far greater than that among even confirmed drunkards." Criminologists have long observed that the most deadly enemies of society, the most secretive and furtive in their designs, have no inclination for drink both from natural constitution and the fear of lessening the skill of their execution. But because the greatest criminals have no taste for strong drink, is no reason why, honest people should not carefully refrain from addiction to brandy and whisky.

Prince or Sergeant.
The German papers are telling a story of the German crown prince. The Kaiser's heir had occasion recently to speak to a street sweeper near the barracks of the riflemen of the guard. Good morning, sergeant," said the sweeper, who did not recognize the prince. He said that his son was fighting in southwest Africa, but he hoped soon to have him back safe and sound. The prince, smiling, said: "Why, yes, I hope so, too!" and pressed a five mark piece into the old man's hand. But the sweeper, looking wistfully at the coin and then at the giver, handed it back, saying: "No, no, sergeant; I doubt you have none too much of that yourself!"

Busy Young King.
Alfonso, the young king of Spain, leads a busy life, made up of work, and study, and sport—such a life as any young man might lead. And this is what has endeared him to his people. In no monarchy was the king's majesty more hedged about with ceremony. The young king has broken it all down. His ancestors gloomed behind the curtained windows of the palace. He has gone to the people. He is part of the national life. And his frank and boyish good fellowship has done more to make the monarchy safe than "all the king's horses and all the king's men."

World's Highest Dock.
What is probably the highest dock in the world has recently been completed at Kisumu, on the Victoria Nyanza, in Uganda, at an altitude of 3,700 feet above sea level. The dock has been constructed to accommodate the Nyanza fleet plying on the lake in connection with the Uganda railroad, of which the terminus is at Kisumu, or Fort Florence, as it is now officially called. It measures 250 feet in length by 48 feet wide and 14 feet deep. It is excavated out of the solid rock by native labor and occupied 13 months in construction.

Americans on the Congo.
Consul McNally, of Liege, gives another illustration that Americans are abroad in the world by citing the fact that the recent census of the white population in the Congo Free State shows 48 of our people there. Of other nationalities there are 51 Germans, 132 English, 1,400 Belgians (many being government officials), 33 Danes, 45 French, 6 Austrians, 4 Spaniards, 2 Greeks, 109 Dutch, 238 Italians, 31 Luxemburgers, 24 Norwegians, 130 Portuguese, 23 Russians, 120 Swedes and 92 Swiss, making a total of 2,500.

Fertile Inquiry.
"I—aw—have an idea, doncher know," began young Sapleigh, and—"Excuse me," interrupted Miss Cautique, "but you're quite certain of your ability to distinguish between ideas and wheels?"—Chicago Daily News.

Breakfast Rolls.
One egg, one-half cup each milk and cream, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, three teaspoonfuls granulated maple sugar. Add flour till about as thick as griddle cakes.

Unique Translation.
A Spanish newspaper reporting the launching of the British battleship Dreadnought the other day, translated the ship's name to mean "nothing terrible."

Loudest Thinker.
Senator Allison of Iowa visited the White House the other day and went to see the president. Senator Allison wanted to talk on a very important matter and was much surprised to find the president's office filled with waiting statesmen. The senator began talking to the president in a tone of voice that would have made a telephone operator ashamed. When he had finished the president blurted out the substance of the whole confidential talk in a voice heard by everyone. "We might as well carry on our confidential business with the president by writing open letters," Senator Allison declared on his return to the senate. "He is the loudest thinking man I ever talked with."

"Highest Judicial Courts"
Two pretty girls visiting Washington listened with hushed attention to the words of wisdom that fell from the lips of their guide. He was their Washington cousin, knew all about the capital and was graciously explaining its sights to them. "And this," said he, stopping before a door in the capitol, "is the supreme court of the United States. That, you know, is the highest judicial court in the land. There are other courts in different parts of the country that are just as high, but this is the highest judicial court." Then they entered and heard an argument delivered before nine judicial judges.

Lovely Cigar.
At the university club banquet in Washington a few nights ago, they gave Uncle Joe Cannon a cigar three feet long that may or may not have been made of tobacco. Congressman Longworth, returning to his duties in the house after his honeymoon, brought for Uncle Joe a cigar made of the best Havana tobacco and about 18 inches long. Uncle Joe took it, smelled it, turned it over and over, caressed it lovingly, and then said: "By gum, Nick, it looks good enough to put cream on and eat."

Beauty of Complexion.
Beauty of complexion depends upon four things—perfect digestion, good blood, an active liver and good circulation. To improve all of these functions the same prescription will answer, and it is: Deep breathing. Plenty of pure water—eight glasses a day. Fresh vegetables and salads, sufficient sleep to keep the nerves quiet. Outdoor exercise every day. Little or no alcohol, tea, coffee, or drugs of any kind, and particularly the powders and poisons taken for nerves and insomnia.

Standing Up for It.
The orchestra, consisting of a violinist and a pianist, stopped to rest, and the chairman of the meeting took occasion to step to the front of the platform to apologize for the poor ventilation of the hall.
"Gentlemen," he said, "I know how we have all been suffering for the last 15 minutes. This bad air—"
"De air is yooast as good as de agompaniment!" interrupted the indignant violinist, glaring at the piano player.—Chicago Tribune.

Changeable.
This story was told in the senate cloakrooms apropos of the speech of Senator Patterson, supposed to be a Democrat, in which he eulogized all of President Roosevelt's policies: A local census enumerator visited the senator's home in Denver and was received by the negro butler. After the usual questions, he asked: "What is the senator's politics?" "Fo' goodness sake, mister, I dunno; 'de senator ain't done been home since breakfast time."

Oolong Tea.
It is estimated that in 15 years the export of Chinese-grown oolong tea from the port of Amoy has fallen off from approximately 15,000,000 pounds to 900,000 pounds. Of this the United States imported not one pound. There were shipped, however, through the port of Amoy to America, in 1904, 11,324,067 pounds of oolong tea from Formosa.

Weigh Yourself.
As a test of whether you are reducing with sufficient rapidity buy a set of scales. Weigh yourself religiously twice a day and be governed by what they say to you. Though good friends they are truth and you may depend upon it that they will not lie, not even to save your feelings.

Eat Fruit.
Fruit eaten before breakfast or at the meals helps to reduce redness of the nose and otherwise improves the complexion. Care should be taken not to eat the skin or seeds or any other indigestible portion of the fruit. It must, of course, be perfectly ripe.

Wrong Place.
Pa Twaddles—Why are you spanking Tommy?
Ma Twaddles—He needs a lesson, and I'm impressing it on his mind.
"Well, you've got a queer idea as to where the lad's mind is situated."—Chicago Journal.

Why Couldn't She Keep Them?
Mrs. Nagget—Well, I guess I have a perfect right to my opinions.
Mr. Nagget—Certainly you have, my dear. And if you only kept them to yourself no one would ever question that right.—Stray Stories.

That Ward Meeting.
Mrs. Rounder—So you addressed a ward meeting last night? Did you have a full house?
Mr. Rounder (absently)—Once, but the other fellow held four.—Cleveland Leader.

The Great Unknown.
Among the crowds of visitors in Washington the other day was a young Ohioan named Bud Kiefer. Two of the sights he wanted to see were Senators Foraker and Dick, but one of these gentlemen was absent and the other too busy. The doorkeeper informed Bud that he would call out Senator Clark's secretary, George Gilliland, an Ohio man. Bud was delighted, he and Mr. Gilliland, a having been schoolmates. As they stood chatting over old times Bud was introduced to one of two senators who passed by. Then Vice President Fairbanks came along and Mr. Gilliland said: "Mr. Vice President, let me introduce Bud Kiefer, of Ohio." The vice president stuck out his hand. Bud grasped it briskly and said: "Glad to meet you, sir. What's the name, please?"

Nobody Safe.
Justice Harlan, of the United States supreme court, hale, hearty and over 70, says: "I suppose I am the only man of my age in the country who can truthfully say that I have never eaten anything that disagreed with me." "Is that due?" asked Secretary Root, "to a careful selection of your food?" "No, sir," said the justice, "but to a careful and intelligent selection of my stomach at an early date. One cannot tell," said Justice Harlan, a few moments later, "where the lightning will strike." He was discussing presidential possibilities. "I remember hearing my father say after Franklin Pierce was nominated, 'John, after this nobody is safe.'"

Cook's Perquisites.
E. Z. Gross, the mayor of Harrisburg, was condemning the fees and unfair perquisites which swell unduly the salaries of many unimportant officeholders. "Fees and perquisites," he said, "tend to cause unjust dealings. Even in the kitchen this is so."
"A butcher told me the other day that a young woman, the cook in a prominent family hereabouts, came into his shop and said:
"Gimme a fine large roast o' beef with plenty o' bones."
"Plenty of bones?" said the butcher in amazement.
"Yes," answered the young woman. "Bones is my perquisite."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

For Wavy Hair.
By brushing your hair carefully at night and arranging it in two braids you will have a wavy crown next day and your hair will look twice as heavy as if left to its natural inclination. If you would have the wave particularly noticeable braid the hair loosely and draw two strands up close to the head by holding one strand out taut and straight. The third strand can be rolled into a little bunch and pinned up close to the head with the other two strands. Then next morning undo your braids and you will brush out a fluffy mass of wavy tresses. Take the curling iron and wave the hair about the face, catching in all the stray ends that are known to the cult as "widow locks."

To Relieve the Boats.
"Why are all the sofas and chairs in the cloakrooms upholstered in leather?" asked Congressman Tyndall, the Ozark mountain member, of Champ Clark. "Dunno," answered Clark. "I suppose it's fashionable and don't wear out like black hair cloth." "Oh, that's it, is it?" Tyndall said. "Somebody told me it was so that we could sharpen our knives without hacking our boots."

Starved Out.
Josh—If the brains are right under the skull, and the hair is a vegetable growth, it must feed on the brains, doesn't it?
Bosh—Guess that's right.
"That's kind of hard on you, Bosh."
"For what reason?"
"Why, man, you're bald-headed!"—Detroit Free Press.

Induces Sweet Sleep.
Take deep breathing just before retiring at night and the deep knee bending work as well. Be sure to leave a window open in your room all night, and with a complete change of clothing (taking care never to sleep in the same underclothes worn all day), you will find you are apt to pass a more comfortable night than usual.

Fortune in Sight.
The Heiress—And haven't you any financial prospects, George, dear?
George—Why, yes. I'm figuring on a sure thing that ought to net me half a million at least.
"What is the sure thing, George, dear?"
"You."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Muscular.
"Yes, Harker married a physical culture girl."
"Did eh? Is she a better housekeeper than other girls?"
"I should say so. She can take the toughest steak and pound on it until it is as tender as quail."—Chicago Tribune.

Too Stout.
Stand erect with your clothing loose. Tip forward without bending your knees until your fingers touch your toes. If you cannot easily touch the tips of your shoes without bending your knees, then you are too stout.

Good Toilet Water.
You can prepare a very good toilet water of 30 drops each of oil of lavender, oil of bergamot, oil of lemon and orange flower water, half pint deodorized alcohol. Cork and shake well.

Sontag Skated.
Skating was tabooed for women in Berlin until the prima donna, Henrietta Sontag set the bold example.

Routed Longworth.
Representative Longworth visited the senate the other day. Fearing the ordeal of congratulations likely to occur he came in very quietly and was well within the chamber before he was seen. Senator Kean was quick to offer his congratulations and after him came a dozen or more senators. Longworth got red under the volley of remarks that fell upon him. Just as the incident was at the height of its interest the door opened again and in came Prince Cupid, of Hawaii. "Longworth is here," said Kean, "and Cupid came also." The next moment the young son-in-law of the president was making a hasty flight back toward the south end of the capitol.

German Farmers Protect Birds.
German farmers are trying to induce the smaller birds to return to their old haunts about the fields, and for this purpose are setting out boxes and other artificial devices to serve the birds for homes. The farmers need the birds to destroy the insects, but the birds are disappearing, not only because of their direct slaughter, but also because of the old trees, in the decayed hollows of which they built their nests, both of which are prolific in insects, together with the stagnant pools which yielded them food in abundance, are all disappearing before the closer cultivation of the present time.

Not the England of Old.
It is not the England of Cressy or Poitiers or Agincourt; it is the England of pounds, shillings and pence. It is not the England that rode with Rupert and charged with Caradigan; it is the England of the spinning jenny and the merchant craft. It is not the England of Nelson's quarter deck nor of Nelson's tomb; it is the England of the bank in Threadneedle street and of the counting rooms of Bombay. This England will never fight on a point of honor, as would the England of the black prince, but it will fight for a market, as did the England of Lord Palmerston.—Washington Post.

Hint for the Women.
It is as bad a plan to tire a man with too much honey talk and caresses as it is to neglect him altogether. He must do the wooing, you know. It is perfectly legitimate to coax him along a little with smiles and guarded compliments, but watch out that you don't overdo. Whenever a woman gets to begging a man to love her she loosens her grasp on his heart. If you do love him a little, make him fancy it is the greatest honor to him. Women often cheapen themselves, and when they do men not only lose interest, but respect too.

The Feet.
At the first sign of corn or bunion the feet should be bathed every morning in cold or warm water to which a little alum or vinegar has been added. This is a soothing bath, also, for swollen feet and leaves a nice sensation of freshness. Feet that are inclined to corns or bunions should be sponged at night with lavender water or very slightly diluted vinegar. People who suffer from weak ankles should put plenty of salt in the water in which they bathe their feet and should use the water cold.

Uncle's Books.
The Library of Congress now contains 1,344,618 books, 410,352 pieces of music, 183,724 prints and 82,744 maps and charts, according to the annual report of the librarian, Herbert Putnam, just presented to congress. The library gained 68,951 books and about 50,000 pictures and pieces of music during the last year. There were bought 22,998 books, 16,348 were received by gift, 11,763 by copyright and 6,474 gained by exchange with foreign governments.

Wants Thinner Lips.
To reduce the size of one's lips requires an effort of the mind and will. Hold your lips in constantly—pinch them as it were, by contracting the muscles. Learn to speak with precision and learn to enunciate clearly and you will find your lips forming in the beautiful lines of the oratorical mouth as it is called in physiognomy.

For the Thin Person.
I would recommend taking a tablespoonful of olive oil right after each meal. Take only the best. I would recommend drinking with meals and munching things between meals. Eat plenty of pure sugar and don't worry.

Excessive Perspiration.
The disagreeable odor caused by excessive perspiration may be prevented by using ammonia and powdered alum. Of course, cleanliness is the first requisite. Bathe frequently, and apply the ammonia, then the alum.

Red Hands.
For distressingly red hands equal parts of glycerin, lemon juice and rose water may be applied nightly under gloves. "Daily applications of lemon juice are sure to produce a whitening effect."

Shifted Phraseology.
"Billionaires are becoming great founders of colleges."
"Yes. Or it might be expressed, colleges are becoming great finders of billionaires."—Washington Star.

Uncle Allen.
"Lots of men," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "are useless in this world because they are merely well wishers instead of being well diggers."—Chicago Tribune.

Too Many Idlers.
If all men would work there would be fewer overworked.

Children's Complexions.
Why is it that the children of the wealthy have, as a rule, complexions of great beauty? Because in their case ordinary care is taken to prevent injury. If they were allowed to go unwashed the skin would become sallow. If they were washed with common household soap the skin would get coarse; and the coarseness would be added to by neglect of rinsing. A child's skin is so sensitive that only the very purest toilet soap should be used to it, and its employment should be followed by at least two rinsings in clear water. Drying should be carried out with very soft towels. A woman of wealth knows that if the face of her little daughter is badly treated, the face of that daughter when grown to marriageable age will suffer. It would be as irrational to suppose the contrary as that it would be possible to injure the child's general health without injuring her health of the future.

Easter Gifts.
Easter is now observed almost as universally as Christmas and it is quite the custom to send gifts mostly in the way of flowers, plants, candy or a novelty egg containing a little gift. Books done up in white paper tied with white and yellow ribbon make very acceptable tokens. In Europe, Easter is the most widely celebrated of all the many festival days. The people of Paris "make to themselves the duty of being happy," which we all can surely try to do, and the best way will be to try to remember some one of whom no one else will think. Easter is the one day in the calendar that calls for unqualified praise:
"It is a pretty fashion to be glad; Joy is the grace we say to God."
MADAME MERRI.

Trying to Fill Him.
When the eminent Wu Ting Fang was Chinese minister at Washington, he was the guest of honor at one of the leading clubs, where he made an address, and was afterward entertained by some of the younger members, who thought it would be great fun to get the oriental diplomat intoxicated. They piled him with champagne, highballs and beer until about three a. m., by which time most of the clubmen were maudlin. Cool as a cucumber, Mr. Wu surveyed the crowd, and said, gravely, in his perfect English: "If I didn't know this club was composed entirely of gentlemen I should say that you fellows were trying to get me drunk." The session adjourned very shortly thereafter.

The Complexion.
Every season has its special perils effect upon the complexion, and the woman who has learned the secret of refreshing her skin with buttermilk finds in it her weapon to combat the tan and sunburn of summer, and the roughening and chapping winds of winter, as well as the sudden changes of temperature of the intermediate seasons. After any outdoor sport, after dances, after overexertion—in fact, whenever there is need of a cooling or reanimating bath it should be of buttermilk, and the beauty of it is that it does not leave a sour odor, as do milk and cream when they are used for bathing purposes, but leaves one as fresh and sweet as possible.

Good Form.
It is not considered good form to begin at once with a recital of one's ailments in responding to a greeting. Better reply: "Quite well, thank you," than to announce the fact that you are not really so. If the acquaintance is intimate enough, you can say you do not feel as well as usual, but, as the salutation and question are purely a matter of form, the response may be the same.

Solemnity a Medical Asset.
The days are past when every self-respecting doctor was expected to dress in a style tastefully blending the divine with the undertaker. But a "sustained and impenetrable solemnity" is still a priceless possession for those who would achieve success in medicine. If this is a natural gift, so much the better; if not, it should be acquired at any cost.—British Medical Journal.

There Are Others.
"Why do you always tell that story about how you used to drive the cows to pasture whenever we have company to dinner? I don't want people to know that I got the pails ready for you!" said Mrs. Wouldbeswell.
"Oh, what do you care?" said her husband. "In these days of rubber gloves you can't tell who's doing her own dish washing."—Detroit Free Press.

A Beauty Builder.
Bags made of cheesecloth filled about three-quarters full of bran used as a washcloth make of the ordinary tubbing a beauty builder as well as a cleanser. The bran softens the water and is especially beneficial to people who find the winter plunge bath irritating to the skin.

Chinese Close Buyers.
A consul in China remarks sagely that "the Chinese will buy only what they want, and not what foreign manufacturers think they should buy. No effort to force upon them goods 'manufactured for export' and probably unsalable at home, will avail."

Good Sachet.
The best quality of Florentine orris root, powdered, has the odor of violets and is lasting. It is the basis of all violet sachets and no elaborate mixture is more delicious than the orris root alone.

Throw Away the Fine Comb.
The use of a fine comb should be severely frowned upon. It irritates the scalp and causes dandruff to form.

The Nails.
It does require more time than most working girls can afford to spend to manure the nails. But they may be kept in very good condition with a little care. File frequently, always in oval shape. The nail brush should be used when the hands are washed, and should be full and soft. It should be rubbed on a cake of soap and then used vigorously. The cuticle may be kept down from the nail by rubbing back with a towel. Dissolve an ounce of borax in three ounces of distilled water. To the water in which the hands are to be washed pour enough of the borax water to make it very soft. It is very cleansing and healthy. By its use the hands will be kept in excellent condition—soft and white.

A teacher in a certain Episcopal Sunday school had been impressing on her girls the need of making some personal sacrifices during Lent. Accordingly, on the first Sunday of that penitential season, which happened to be a warm spring day, she took occasion to ask each of the class in turn what she had given up for the sake of her religion. Everything went well and the answers were proving highly satisfactory until she came to the youngest member. "Well, Mary," inquired the teacher, "what have you left off for Lent?" "Please, ma'am," stammered the child, somewhat confused, "I—I've left off my legging."—Lippincott's.

Horse Shod with Gold.
In J. F. Hogan's "History of the Irish in Australia," a number of freaks of suddenly enriched lucky gold diggers are recorded, but one of the queerest is told of a Scotsman named Andrew Cameron, who died in Melbourne the other day at the age of 87. He was returned in 1856 by a goldfields constituency to the first parliament of Victoria, and the story goes that he rode 100 miles down to Melbourne on a horse shod with gold. The golden shoes remained on the horse for three days. Then the native frugality of the Caledonian asserted itself, and they were replaced by baser metal.

Harnessing the Rhone.
The French river Rhone is a subterranean stream near Bellegarde, vanishing in a subterranean gulf and reappearing for a considerable distance. The engineers propose to change this romantic geology by damming the river and turning the water into two parallel tunnels which will conduct the river two miles and a half to two power generating stations. Here a fall of 200 feet will yield 150,000 horsepower for 300 days in the year. The cost is placed at about $5,000,000, and the use of the power is estimated as equivalent to working an inexhaustible coal bed supplying 1,600,000 tons a year.

Frosted Fruits.
These are easy and effective. Beat up the white of an egg, with one teaspoonful of water. Have a sheet of paper, with fine white sugar, lying on the stove to get warm, but you must see that it does not melt. Dip small bunches of grapes into the white of egg, then shake the sugar all over, and lay on a sieve near the fire for the frosting to get dry.
The sugar for black grapes should be white and a deep yellow or pink can be used for green grapes. Arrange with leaves on a crystal or silver dish placed here and there on the table.—Marion Harris Neil.

Grace and Symmetry.
Stop lunching, or if you must lunch, confine your lunch to stewed fruit, toast and tea. When you eat, dine wisely, but not too well. Eat a chop, but take very little soup and use moderation along with your punch and sweets. For breakfast take one cup of coffee and some rather hard toast and rolls. Follow these diet directions and you will return once more to the grace and symmetry which you had when you joined the club.

Vine Grows Through Oak.
A large oak tree near Chandler has a live grape vine growing through the solid trunk. The swaying of the tree and vine has kept a loose hole worn through the live tree. The grapevine is more than an inch in diameter and reaches the top branches of the tree and bears luscious fruit.—Kansas City Journal.

Notorious Name.
In the early part of the last century a firm of contractors named Jerry Bros. carried on business in Liverpool, and earned an unpleasant notoriety by putting up rapidly-built, showy but ill-constructed houses, so that their name eventually became general for such builders and such work in all parts of the world.

One Privilege of the Rich.
"What would you do if you were rich?" asked the New York man.
"Well," replied the man from Chicago, "I s'pose the first thing I would do would be to have dinner at supper time, like the rest of the rich folks."—Philadelphia Record.

Use Kerosene.
Kerosene oil may be used with very satisfactory results in taking out wagon grease or tar spots if used while the grease is fresh. Then wash out in cold soft water, using no soap.

Always Still.
Friend—Is your husband a quiet man?
Mrs. Wise—Is he? Why, he goes into a comatose condition every time I ask him for a dollar!—Detroit Free Press.

Use Occasionally.
Salt is said to be good as a tooth powder, as it whitens the teeth and kills the germs.
